Senior Citizen Honors Go To Ingenious Cabinetmaker

George Bennett Lauded For Aid To Handicapped

By FRANK FARRARA

George E. Bennett, a 72-year-old San Anselmo cabinet maker, was selected yesterday as the senior citizen of Marin who contributed the most to county, community and friends in the past year.

Bennett's award was announced at a senior Citizens month luncheon. It came for his work at Marindale School, where he designs and constructs special equipment for handicapped children which enables them to participate in more activities.

The children know him "as the one who fixes things so they won't hurt," Mrs. Bennett said.

"I have to give credit to the people there," Bennett said. "They suggest things and I follow through."

He glanced at his wife of almost 51 years and said, "She's active in the seniors, and she's just as much a winner as I."

In nominating Bennett for the award, the Marindale School volunteers and staff described him as a "warm-hearted and understanding" man, "who has given out standing service to his community by helping to meet the special needs of the handicapped children of Marin County."

Bennett said he works with therapists to determine "what they need to make the kids operate."

One of his devices is a stick which enables a girl who has no control over her arms to operate a typewriter by using her mouth and the stick.

He also constructed an apparatus with a spring attached to an arm sling, which enables a child to write, and special supports for those who cannot stand.

"He goes into his room at night and figures and figures, and gets something for the kids," Mrs. Bennett said.

The school volunteers pointed out that Bennett has undertaken "a time-consuming project requiring infinite patience, ingenuity, great skill in woodworking and an understanding of the needs and comforts of the children."

Bennett admitted that he was surprised when the volunteers nominated him for the honor. "When I was called into the office, I thought I was going to be fired," he said.

"I thought they were going to ask him to work more days," Mrs. Bennett said.

Bennett said.

Bennett works one or two days a week at the school as a cabinet maker all year, but gets paid only for part of the year.

When he reaches his Social Security earning limit, he keeps going to work, but donates his services. "I go to work just like I was getting paid, same hours and everything," he said.

He said that the time he donates veries, but estimated donates varies, but estimated

Brown Cancels Income Tax Hike Plea; Unruh Unhappy

New Tobacco Tariffs Claimed Sufficient

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Governor Brown today dropped his plans for a $125 million income tax increase, sharply trimmed other parts of his revenue program and cleared the way for a tax battle with Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh.

Just before Brown made his announcement, Unruh—backing a mammoth $1.10 billion program of tax increases and property tax reforms—told newsmen it would "be a cowardly way out" to back a short-range tax proposal.

Brown said that bigger-than-expected state revenues, just discovered in the past 48 hours, will permit him to drop much of his tax increase plans.

He said that most of his $4.03 billion "bare bones" budget and a $125 million second-phase spending program can be financed by raising cigarette and other tobacco taxes, a $132 million money maker.

Then, for the 1966-67 budget, Brown said that accelerating sales tax collections will bring in some $140 million more, solving next year's tax problems.

YEAR-TO-YEAR

That amounted to a year-to-year tax approach — something that was strongly condemned by Unruh.

"We don't legislate around here for one year," Unruh said. "The object is to provide long-range, lasting solutions."

By June 30, Brown said, there will be a surplus of $141 million in the state treasury.

At the same time, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, took note of the new revenue figures and said he will drop an $80 million tax on utilities from the $1.10 billion tax program he is backing.

NEW TAX SOUGHT

But unlike Brown, Unruh still called for many other new taxes to finance his sweeping plan of property tax reductions, saying that if it is approved this year "I personally would be willing to stake my political reputation and life on the fact that if we have this, there will be no more tax increases in the forseable future."

Brown said that big tax reform packages like Unruh's "are not needed to finance an adequate budget for the forthcoming fiscal year."

As for his proposal for withholding of state income taxes Brown said he still supports it, but that it is needed only after 1966-67.

Brown's statement came as the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee prepared to open hearings on the mammoth Unruh tax package.

Top Dominican Rebel Confers With U.S. Aide

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Col. Francisco Caamano Deno met a U.S. representative for the first time since the Dominican rebels named him provisional president, then vowed last night he would not "take a step backward."

Caamano conferred at his headquarters with former Ambassador John Bartlow Martin, President Johnson's special envoy. The talk aroused speculation that the rebel leader would meet soon with Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras, president of the rival civilian-military junta.

Msgr. Emanuele Clarizio, papal nuncio to the Dominican Republic, sat in on the talk between Caamano and Martin and said later he was "highly optimistic" of a settlement of the 17-day-old civil war.

Caamano, however, in an address over the rebel-held Radio Santo Domingo said: "I will not take a step backward in spite of the enormous U.S. force."

He derided the junta as "an inoperative force" and charged anew that President Johnson sent 20,000 soldiers and Marines to the Dominican Republic on the false assumption that the country was threatened by a Communist takeover.

Caamano has refused to meet with Imbert until he purges several leading officers from the armed forces. His chief foe is Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, commander of the San Isidro training base, who directed the forces that opposed Caamano's rebel forces.

U.S. Pouring More Troops Into Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Nearly 1,000 U.S. Army paratroopers and another combat battalion of 1,400 U.S. Marines landed in South Viet Nam today.

The paratroopers are members of the 173rd Airborne Brigade who came by boat from Okinawa to join about 2,000 members of the brigade already in Viet Nam. A U.S. spokesman said they would help defend American installations at the Bien Hoa air base 20 miles north of Saigon.

The Marines landed at Chu Lai, 52 miles southeast of the strategic U.S.-Vietnamese air base at Da Nang. They boosted to 14,000 the force of leathernecks thrown into the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

The Marine landing lacked the usual fanfare of pretty girls with flowers and official welcoming parties. A spokesman called it a "routine administrative affair."

The new arrivals raised the

Car's Driver Dies Plowing Into Truck

Elvis G. Damon, 28, of Fairfax was killed last night when he drove his car at more than 70 miles an hour into the rear of a heavy truck and trailer which was slowly laboring up the Greenbrae Hill on Highway 101.

Damon was dead on arrival at San Rafael General Hospital, leaving his wife, Winona, and two stepchildren at their home at 17 Woodland Court.

Kurt Hilmer of 1435 Fourth Street, San Rafael, told highway patrolmen he had witnessed part of Damon's weaving northbound progress from southern Marin.

Hilmer saw the Damon car accelerate and decelerate as it changed lanes near the Richardson Bay Bridge. He was worried enough to stop at the Corte Madera Highway Patrol Office to report the car's erratic course.

Hilmer then continued driving north and came upon the collision site a half mile north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Patrolmen estimated Damon was driving more than 70 miles an hour when he hit the truck-trailer driven by Harold I. Daniel, 53, of Ukiah. The truck was going about 20 miles an hour as it headed up the hill at 10:40 p.m.

Damon was the county's eighth traffic fatality this year, compared to 13 traffic deaths at this time last year.

Damon had resided in Marin for two and one-half years and was a dental technician with Crown and Bridge Dental Laboratory in San Rafael.

He is survived by his wife and two step-children, Braith, 14, and Dana, 11, and by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Damon, a sister, Dale A. Damon, and a brother, Kirk Damon, all of Millbrae.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Harry M. Williams Morutary, San Rafael.

Baar Charges Likened To McCarthy Tactics

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

Carl J. Brown, San Rafael Board of Education member, last night accused City Councilman Louis H. Baar of "McCarthyism" in his May 3 statement about the actions of a few high school teachers.

Board president Walter J. Doll instructed School Supt. Bert C. Corona to make a full investigation of Baar's charges.

Brown drew loud applause from the 45 persons in the audience, many of them teachers, when he said Baar was guilty of McCarthyism unless he could back up his accusation.

Earlier, Corona read copies of three letters condemning Baar's statement. One, from the professional relations committee of the San Rafael Teachers Assn., was to Baar himself. Another, from the Marin County Federation of Teachers Local 1077, was written to the city council.

The third letter was from San Rafael High School principal Alfred N. Thomson. It was sent to board president Doll.

All dealt with Baar's remarks in a council meeting dealing with an appointment to the board of education.

"Apparently we have a small group of teachers who are intimidating other teachers down there," said Baar, "and some of the things they teach couldn't be repeated in this room."

Thomson wrote that Baar had never "officially contacted me or any member of the staff at San Rafael High School."

"If he can . . . give us information that will substantiate the remarks that he has made, I would encourage him to make a full report . . .

"On the other hand, if he cannot support his statement with objective information, then

Hamilton AFB Is Rededicated

Marin County was doing it all over again today at Hamilton Air Force Base — rededicating the base, that is.

Thirty years ago, it was dedicated as Hamilton Field, an Army Air Corps installation.

The rededication on its anniversary was scheduled for 2 p.m. accompanied by a band concert and preceded by a luncheon of Novato and San Rafael chambers of commerce and service clubs at the base.

Citizens Protest War In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of 430 men and women took a leisurely 3½-mile hike to the Pentagon today to protest the war in Viet Nam.

The demonstrators, gathered here from throughout the country, left Mount Vernon Methodist Church in Washington at 10 a.m., walked along 10th Street, down Constitution Avenue, crossed the 14th Street Bridge, and finally reached the main entrance of the Pentagon in nearby Virginia, across the Potomac River from Washington.

Unruh Threatens University Probe

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh today denounced some regents of the University of California and threatened a "broad and sweeping" legislative investigation of the university. (see also story, page 2)

Unruh, a regent, said he was "extremely displeased and unhappy" because regents who received the 85-page Byrne report did not give him an advance copy so he could study it and "comment intelligently"

"The way in which it (the report) was released indicates the very bad state of affairs inside the board of regents," he said.

Johnson Asks Pay Hike For Military, U.S. Employees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today asked Congress to vote a pay increase for military personnel and civilian government employees. It would cost $853 million a year, beginning next Jan. 1.

Johnson made the request in a special message. His proposal was based on a study conducted for him by a special panel on federal salaries.

The president proposed these average increases: 3 per cent in federal civilian salaries; 4.8 per cent in compensation of all uniform personnel except enlisted personnel with less than two years of service, and 2.7 per cent in base pay for enlisted men and women with less than two years' service.

Johnson told Congress that "these proposed adjustments will restore the relationships between civilian and military pay established in 1963."

Fluoridation Rejected

WATSONVILLE (UPI) — Voters yesterday rejected a proposal to fluoridate the water supply by better than a 2-1 margin. The vote was 1,823 to 824 against the measure.

Cal Regents Chilly To Demonstration Report's Contents

Blue-Ribbon Group Says FSM Not Guided From Off-Campus

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Key members of the Board of Regents have given a cool reception to a report recommending reorganization of the nine-campus University of California to prevent a recurrence of the Berkeley demonstrations.

The 85-page report, made public yesterday, has no effect unless the regents enact all or part of it. The report was submitted last Friday by attorney Jerome Byrne to a special regents committee appointed last December to seek the underlying causes of the "free speech" uproar last fall at Berkeley.

The report was based on a three - month investigation by eight staff members who interviewed five university presidents as well as 100 students. It included recommendations that:

A new charter be written for the university, which has an enrollment of 70,000 students throughout California.

The university be reorganized into a "commonwealth of universities" with each of the nine campuses to have greater autonomy and "full freedom of organization by faculty and students."

The regents be stripped of power "except those powers and authority essential to the constitutional unity of the whole."

PRESIDENT'S ROLE

The president of the university serve as chairman of the Board of Regents, be spokesman for the statewide university organization and be chief budget officer.

Provide basic broad freedoms for students, with the stipulation they would have to disclaim the right to speak for the university in making public statements on different issues.

Devote more funds to salaries for faculty and encourage development of administrative talents.

Basically, if the Byrne report's recommendations were adopted, heads of the nine campuses would have greater authority and responsibility for doings at their schools and the regents would be freed of burdensome details, enabling them to concentrate more on over-all university policy.

The report criticized the regents and university president for their handling of the Berkeley disturbances. A total of 773 students was arrested last December because of a sit - in demonstration at Berkeley. At one point during the disturbance, university president Dr. Clark Kerr resigned. He subsequently reconsidered his resignation.

NO RED GUIDANCE

No evidence was found by the Byrne group that the Free Speech Movement was organized by Communists "or any other outside group." However, the report did note "some affinity" toward Communism by members of the Free Speech Movement.

Edward W. Carter, chairman of the regents, in a preliminary statement, said he and other regents were "disappointed" in the Byrne proposals. He and committee chairman William Forbes left little doubt there would be substantial modifications of the Byrne proposals before the full board acts on the report next month.

ARIZONA FEELS CAMPUS RIOTS PRESSURE, TOO

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An Arizona Senate committee was to begin a probe today into student riots and other disturbances at the state's two universities.

A summons issued yesterday by the Senate Institutions Committee was directed at administrators of the University of Arizona in Tucson and Arizona State University at nearby Tempe.

It followed nearly a week of spasmodic riots, a teach-in at the Tucson school and a recent speech at Arizona State critical of the administration's Viet Nam policy.

In Tucson, university officials said they were without clues to a wave of "prankish pyromania" that followed student rioting last week.

Security chief Doug Paxton said 15 to 20 fire bombs have been found on the campus since last Wednesday night when the trouble began.

Rusk Explains Viet Policies To U.S. Allies

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk explained U.S. policy in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic to the Atlantic Alliance allies today and asked them to show how these delicate problems could be handled any better.

Rusk, newly arrived from Washington, went into a secret session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference hoping for understanding and backing from the 15-nation alliance.

The NATO foreign ministers met for an hour and 15 minutes in a semisecret session—one in which the substance of their remarks were relayed later to newsmen. Then came a secret session limited to delegation heads and one with press officers and other delegation members excluded.

Diplomatic sources said Rusk, in his talks with the Atlantic allies, intended to stress the diplomatic complexities of the Viet Nam problem.

Rusk is expected to tell other members that the Viet Cong seems to be massing its forces, presumably for the seasonal offensive the Communists often launch with the coming of the monsoon season.

Captain's Widow Aids Vietnamese

SUFFERN, N.Y. (AP) — A pretty, young Army widow who aided a Vietnamese village with medicines and infant food in memory of her husband now proposes to help children there with school supplies.

MRS. Spruill

From her farmhouse outside this village of 5,500, Barbara Spruill discussed her interest in the Mekong River delta village of Cai Son, 10,000 miles away. She lives here with her children, Mark, 8, and Elizabeth, 5.

"Jim had talked often about the school and the children," said Mrs. Spruill, 32. "He was teaching a small English class."

Her husband, Capt. James P. Spruill of Plymouth, N.C., lived in Cai Son for five months as military adviser until his Jeep touched off a Communist land mine a year ago. The blast killed him, a U.S. Army sergeant and three Vietnamese soldiers.

Mrs. Spruill wrote to several U.S. pharmaceutical companies, asking for medicines, infant formulas and powdered milk. They responded with the gifts and paid for shipping them.

"The Vietnamese made a big ceremony of accepting them," Mrs. Spruill said.

"I don't think I'm going to contact any school supply firms," she said. "I probably will just send the money and maybe they can purchase Vietnamese supplies and that way it woun't be another isolated American gift."

Barry Against Using Funds On TV Series

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater has told national Republican officials he opposes the plan of some party conservatives to finance a televised political series with left-over 1964 campaign funds.

National Chairman Ray Bliss and the heads of the party's Senate and House campaign committees have made it known they are distressed by the apparent intention of the conservatives to produce a series of documentaries plugging for the election of a Republican Congress next year.

Their objections have been based on the proposed format of the show — which would deal with crime, narcotics and such matters — and the fact that in their view it would be likely to drain off contributions that otherwise might become available to the National Comittee.

The Washington officials were reported to have appealed to Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee, to use his influence to help get the left-over campaign funds into the National Committee's currently lean treasury. Goldwater is understood to have agreed to help.

Family Of Four Needs Put At $123 Weekly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The typical American worker must now earn $123 a week—or $6,418-a-year—to provide a modest but adequate living for a family of four.

That was the conclusion drawn today by the AFL-CIO in its revision of the Labor Department's family budget for city workers for 1959.

The labor federation urged union negotiators to use the new earnings figure—which comes to $3.07 an hour—in collective bargaining to justify demands for pay increases.

"This amount is required to meet the necessities of life, pay taxes and enjoy a few of the amenities of life—but with no allowance for luxuries or savings," the AFL-CIO said.

"The budget clearly points up the fact that millions of American families have incomes that are not high enough to maintain reasonable family living standards."

The average factory worker, it said, had straight-timeearnings of $2.58 an hour at the start of 1965—about 59 cents an hour below the suggested rate.

San Rafael Driver Hurt As Auto Hits Head-On With Sheriff's Car

William F. Nabor, 21, of San Rafael, was injured at 9:45 p.m. yesterday when his car collided head-on with a Sheriff's patrol car on Lucas Valley road near Sequera Drive.

Highway patrolmen reported the eastbound patrol car, driven by Deputy Charles T. Prandi, 31, of 14 Lauren Avenue, Novato, apparently blew a rear tire as it rounded a curve in the road.

Naber, of 536 Cedarberry Lane, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital and later transferred to Letterman General Hospital in the Presidio of San Francisco, where he was under observation today for possible fractured knees and a concussion.

The patrol car was wrecked, but Prandi emerged unhurt.

in time and the next year less."

Bennett, who lives at 177 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, has been working at the school since January, 1963. Until his retirement a few years ago, he was superintendent of the cabinet shop of Fairfax Lumber Co.

The Bennets lived for many years in Seattle, Wash., where Bennett owned and operated a lumber millwork business. They have been residents of Marin for 13 years, and formerly lived in Mill Valley.

A plaque given by the county was presented to Bennett at a luncheon at the Non-Commissioned Officers Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

His name will go on a larger plaque which will be displayed at the Marin Civic Center or another public building, reported Richard Phenix, coordinator of the Community Services Project, Marin Council of Community Services.

Bennett was selected from among 19 candidates, 11 women and eight men, nominated by clubs, churches and other organizations throughout Marin.

The judges awarded honorable mention to two other nominees: Mrs. Irene K. Olney of 7 Oak Tree Lane, Fairfax, who was unable to attend because she is hospitalized with an eye ailment, and Mrs. George Thierbach of 128 Hillpath Lane, Corte Madera.

Mrs. Olney was nominated by Hillhaven Convalescent Hospital, San Rafael, for unselfish work, friendship, time and money she has given to hospital patients.

Mrs. Thierbach was nominated by the Corte Madera Town Council for her unselfish work in behalf of other elderly persons and for her participation in many projects for town improvements.

The candidates were guests of the air base's 30th anniversary committee, and all senior citizens were welcomed by the base and the Retired Officers Assn. of Marin.

Dean Of Boys Named For Edna Maguire

Robert Peterson of Fairfax was appointed Monday night as dean of boys of Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley.

Peterson, 47-year-old mathematics teacher, has taught at Edna Maguire 10 years. Duties of the new position have formerly been handled by Principal Dominic Bobbio. Appointment is effective in September.

Hollis, Cohen Speak

Members of the Marin Assn. of School Administrators today heard County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis and Larkspur School District Supt. Milton S. Cohen describe education in Russia and Europe. The talks were given at the groups luncheon meeting at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

Management, Labor Join Plans Lobby

Labor and management representatives in Marin's construction industry have joined forces to lobby for better planning and development of the county, E. Douglas Roberts, Marin Builders Exchange manager, announced today.

Industry leaders have forced the Labor Management-Construction Industry Council of Marin to "work together on problems of mutual interest."

Roberts called it "a new breakthrough in labor-management relations."

The council intends to work for establishment of a uniform building code throughout Marin.

First session will be a public meeting at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael, on July 3.

Co-chairmen of the council are Roberts and George Scott, president of the Building and Construction Trades Council of Marin.

Other industry leaders serving on the steering committee are: Carl Brown, executive vice-president of the Associated Home Builders of San Francisco and Marin; George Goodfellow, business representative of Hod Carriers, Construction and General Laborers Union Local 291; Ray White, executive manager of the Associated Heating and Sheet Metal Contractors, and Norman Campbell, business representative of the Bay Counties District Council of Carpenters.

College Alumni Dance Slated

Directors of the College of Marin Alumni Assn. last night set Oct. 2 as the date for a dinner dance at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael. Nominations for association officers will be announced at that time.

Named to serve as nominating committee were Marc Mezzetta, William B. Van Winkle and Mrs. William Davis.

The association voted to award a $100 scholarship to a June graduate this year.

San Anselmo Woman's Condition Critical

Georgetta Sherrad, 31, was reported in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital after San Anselmo police found her unconscious at her home at 12:20 a.m. with an empty bottle of seconal nearby.

Police entered the home at 11 Belle Avenue after Mrs. Sherrad's sister, Mrs. Jean Vaccaro, of 21 Olema Drive, Fairfax, telephoned to say she feared Mrs. Sherrad might take her own life.

Monday that Wessin had agreed to resign but later changed his mind. Imbert said yesterday he would accept Wessin's resignation "if it is his wish."

The unofficial total of American dead in the Dominican Republic rose to 14.

A U.S. Army lieutenant was killed and seven other paratroopers were wounded Monday night when they were caught in sniper crossfire. The rebels contended the paratroopers were five blocks outside the U.S.-policed international safety zone. A U.S. spokesman said they were inside the zone.

The Organization of American States ordered part of its peace mission back to the Dominican Republic from Washington in a new effort to find a settlement.

The OAS decided because of the Dominican crisis to postpone an inter-American conference of foreign ministers set for May 20 in Rio de Janeiro.

Oakdale Avenue Abandonment Is Recommended

Standing room only was available last night to hear Mill Valley planning commissioners decide 5-1 to recommend to city council abandonment of a portion of Oakdale Avenue to permit better site development of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church.

Commissioner Mrs. Alan F. Kappelman voted "no."

Neils Enevoldsen, 55 Oakdale Avenue, and A. M. Donnan, 29, Buena Vista Avenue, spoke in opposition to the plan, saying they felt the street should be left as it is. Attorney Paul Camera, representing the church, summed up the church's position.

The commission unanimously approved a conditional use permit and a plan for building the new library in Old Mill Park.

Annual Plant Sale Is Slated Saturday

Two hundred copies of a painting of the late comedian, W. C. Fields, will be on sale for $1 each at the Marin Easter Seal Society benefit at 8 p.m. today in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

The painting is by Bill Bates of San Francisco, who donated the copies. Showing of three W. C. Fields films is also scheduled during the benefit.

3 Juveniles Arrested In Burglaries

Three juveniles believed to be the "hitchhiking burglars" responsible for four Sausalito burglaries were arrested yesterday in San Francisco by Sausalito police.

The arrest by Patrolman Herbert Smith led to recovery of three pistols, .25-caliber automatics stolen from the home of James H. Davis, 56 Toyon Lane, and a .25-caliber automatic stolen from the apartment of Ronald Foster, 66 Edwards Avenue.

The youths, one 17 and two 12, were charged with burglary and placed in San Francisco Youth Guidance Center.

Smith said the gang is believed to be the same as the four youths who hitchhiked away from Police Lt. Ted Zink Monday. The fourth member is being sought, he said.

Called by Kenneth A. Elkington, Davis's neighbor, Zink spotted the youths who crossed Highway 101 on foot but could not get to them. He drove quickly to the Marin City underpass, returned, but they had disappeared.

Other burglaries on May 5 and 6 which have been "cleared," said Smith, are those of the home of Robert L. Howard of 35 Woodward Avenue, where a radio and $2 in pennies were stolen, and the apartment of Dr. Edward M. Pflueger, 60 Edwards Avenue, where a radio was taken.

total U.S. military force in Viet Nam to about 46,500 men.

Twelve U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bombers supported by 12 other planes attacked targets along five highways 160 miles south of Hanoi and then hit the North Vietnamese port of Vinh.

To the south, the battle for the provincial capital of Song Be appeared over as an estimated 1,500 Communist guerrillas pulled back into the hills after a fierce daylong struggle that cost the lives of five American military advisers and 27 of the Vietnamese defenders.

The Viet Cong overran Song Be, 74 miles north of Saigon, early Tuesday and held it for seven hours until U.S. air strikes opened the way for Vietnamese troops to retake the town of 15,000 people. Thirteen were wounded.

A senior U.S. military adviser, Lt. Col. John G. Hill of Alexandria, Va., estimated the Viet Cong suffered between 600 and 1,000 casualties, including more than 300 killed.

The retreating Reds tried to ambush reinforcements dropped by helicopter at the Song Be airstrip, but the troops landed south of the field.

There was speculation that the attack on Song Be signaled the start of a major Viet Cong offensive during the monsoon rainy season, which severely hampers air operations.

In Saigon, Deputy U.S. Amsaobas drU. Alexis Johnson had a narrow escape when a load of ammunition blew up in a movie studio adjoining his residence.

Police, searching the Alfa Studio which uses ammunition for props for war movies, found five unexploded mortar shells, five high-explosive grenades and a quantity of small-arms ammunition. About 40 employes of the firm were taken to the police station for questioning. Police officials felt the explosion was an accident.

Employment Falls Because Of Rain

Employment in Marin, which usually increases during April, fell off this year because of two weeks of rain, the San Rafael office of the State Department of Employment reported yesterday.

Job placements through the employment service in April totaled 542, compared to 546 in the previous month and 590 in April, 1964, office manager Edwin W. Ayer said. Unemployment payments increased from 1,140 per week in March to 1,190 per week in April.

San Franciscan Gets Drunken Driving Fine

Clifford Dean Heston, 38, of San Francisco, was fined $330 and sentenced to five days in county jail today in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

He was arrested Jan. 31 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 and had a prior conviction.

Doreen Bobo, 13, will reign as queen of the rodeo and her sister will be one of two princesses for the Novato Western Weekend celebration June 16-20.

Doreen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Bobo of 1470 South Novato Boulevard, will have her sister Lynette and Carol Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hansen of 280 Eucalyptus Avenue, as her court.

She was selected as queen by the Novato junior horsemen.

Commuters' Income Tax Idea Revived

A proposal to tax the San Francisco earnings of commuters from Marin—and other Bay Area counties—was revived yesterday by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Such a tax has been talked of in previous years.

Supervisor Terry A. Francois said he will ask San Francisco's city attorney and board of supervisors Monday to explore legal and fiscal problems involved in a payroll tax.

Those who both live and work in San Francisco could deduct the payroll tax from their property tax, Francois suggested. Those who make their money in "the city" but live elsewhere would get no such break.

Francois said some 270 U.S. cities have city income taxes ranging from one-half to 1.5 per cent of gross income. In Toledo, Ohio, the tax produces 35 per cent of the city's revenue, he said.

Novato To Make Own Study On Civic Center

The Novato City Council last night decided to have its own city staff do the preliminary work on a Novato civic center study.

The council turned down a proposal by Griffenhagen-Kroeger Inc., municipal consultants of San Francisco, to make the study of future needs of government agencies which might be included in such a center, site for the center, and methods of financing it. Griffenhagen-Kroeger said this would cost $7,500 to $10,000.

Councilman J. Wayne Womack said that since the North Marin Water District will not enter the center, he doubted whether the study is needed.

It was Councilman Douglas M. Merrill's suggestion that the city staff do a preliminary study.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow said that the first thing was to select the site.

City Mgr. J. Julien Baget said that the city staff could have a preliminary report in 30 to 45 days.

Second Inmate Is Stabbed Within Week

San Quentin Prison authorities were investigating the second prison stabbing in less than a week today.

Inmate John Nettles, 23, was stabbed once in the left side of his chest at 9:40 a.m. today while in a shower room with four other prisoners.

He was treated at the prison hospital. His wound was termed superficial by Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Park said Nettles, serving one year to life for assaulting a prisoner at Soledad Prison, had not identified his assailant.

"No weapon has been found yet," he said, "and I guess the suspects can be limited to the other four men in the shower room with him."

Park said the shower room was in the segregation area of the prison where "men, who for one reason or another are not able to get along with the rest of the prison population, are kept."

He said Nettles was in the segregation area because of his assault at Soledad and a suspicion by prison authorities that he participated in the non-fatal stabbing of another inmate early in April.

Prison authorities are still investigating last Sunday's near-fatal stabbing of inmate Charles Walter Leonard, 32. Leonard, in serious condition today, was stabbed nine times in the chest by an unknown assailant.

he must be reprimanded officially by the community of San Rafael," the principal's letter said.

"If Mr. Baar has information let him state it," wrote Walter B. Belden, vice president of the A F T local.

"If he cannot cite specific violations of ethical conduct, or morality, then Mr. Baar owes a full and complete apology for his statements, and this apology should become a part of the record of the city council minutes for May 3.

"If neither an apology or an explanation is forthcoming, then we believe that Mr. Baar has been guilty of violating his public trust, for by making unsupported allegations in public he has irresponsibly sown distrust of our schools."

After hearing the letters, Doll told Corona to make an investigation. Brown then commented that he considered it "deplorable that an elected official would make such a statement."

"If he can substantiate it, then we have a job to do. If he cannot, then I just think this is McCarthyism at work," Brown said.

The audience applauded.

No comment was forthcoming from other board members, including Mrs. Anita C. Strom, appointed at the May 3 council meeting. She was attending her first session as a board member.

Landmarks Group Elects Directors

Mrs. Clayton D. Claassen of Tiburon and Allan E. Steinau Jr. and William G. Pittman of Belvedere were elected to the board of directors of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society at the annual meeting Monday.

Re-elected to the board were Mrs. Robert Bastian of Belvedere, president of the society since its founding in 1959, and Thomas B. Crowley of Belvedere. Directors will meet later in the month to elect officers.

Thomas M. Lacey, Belvedere attorney, was made an honorary member of the group for his legal work in helping preserve the wildflower area around Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon, where the annual meeting and a reception for Lacey were held.

'TIN GOOSE' DUE AT HAMILTON

This Ford Tri-Motor airliner, built for a predecessor to American Airlines, will join a number of early-day military aircraft on the flight line at Hamilton Air Force Base for the facility's Armed Forces Day open house Saturday. The latest word in 1929-model air transport, the "Flying Washboard" has been completely refurbished, and is flying around the country for display at functions such as the one at Hamilton, and for courtesy flights at San Francisco International Airport next Monday through Thursday.

Marine General Due At Armed Forces Talk

Maj. Gen. Robert E. Cushman Jr., commander of the Marine Corps Base at Camp Pendleton, will be featured speaker at the second annual Armed Forces Day luncheon at noon tomorrow at Nero's Restaurant in Novato.

The luncheon is held in conjunction with Armed Forces Week at Hamilton Air Force Base. The week's observance, which saw the rededication ceremonies on the 30th anniversary today, will be climaxed with an all-day open house at the base on Saturday.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Rotary and Lions clubs sponsor the luncheon.

General Cushman, a native of Minnesota, saw his first action in the Sino-Japanese hostilities in Shanghai, in the late 1930s. He was stationed on the Pennsylvania at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese hit there on Dec. 7, 1941. He saw action in the Atlantic and Mediterranean theaters during World War II. He served on the staff of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Pumper Truck Budget Sought By Fire Board

After several meetings, the Marinwood fire commission last night came up with a recommended budget for next fiscal year that will include an additional fire truck and raises on a merit basis for the three regular firemen.

Commission Chairman Henry Biggers said the budget, to be sent to the Marinwood Community Service District board for approval, recommends purchase of a 15-year-old, 21,000-gallon-per-minute pumper at about $11,000, with payments spread over six years. The Marinwood department's present truck has a 750-gallon-per-minute capacity.

The commission recommended that a fund be set aside for merit raises during the year.

The budget will total about $29,000, Biggers said.

TAPE FROM VIET NAM

Marin Major Describes Finding Red Arsenal Cache

Viet Cong hiding places for weapons and ammunition in tangled undergrowth along streams are almost impossible to find, according to an army major from Marin.

Maj. Robert L. Sears, 37, of 940 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, who recently supervised a raid that netted a Viet Cong arsenal, told of the arms cache in tape recorded messages to his wife.

"We found a display of weapons, some 400-odd," he said, "East German machine guns, Chinese sub-machine guns and 70 millimeter howitzers."

Sears estimated that the operation netted "about one-tenth or one-twentieth" of the stores, and said it would be impossible to search the area for all the hidden arsenals.

Because of the mangrove trees, swamps and undergrowth, a man could be from six to eight feet away and not see the cache, he said. A pilot flying at an altitude of 29 to 30 feet cannot see the floor of the jungle.

Sears said the Viet Cong got out in junks and sampans to meet ships that are smuggling in arms, and then go up rivers and tributaries and cache them along the banks.

Sears, adviser to the Seventh Vietnames Division, said the "Vietnamese troops are acting well, have enthusiasm and spirit, and are improving in every way."

Although Sears serves in the airborne infantry, he achieved the honor of winning the Air Medal, which is normally awarded to Air Force personnel.

Air Force personnel who flew with Sears nominated him for the award because he has flown many dangerous missions, Mrs. Sears reported.

In February he was awarded the Vietnamese Medal of Honor for his part in engineering a trap that resulted in a major defeat for the Viet Cong at Pac Boc Jan. 26.

Sears is a 1952 West Point graduate.

Mrs. Sears and her three sons are scheduled to remain in Corte Madera until Sears returns for his new assignment in Kansas.

Rebate Of Fire Insurance Made Gift To Department

Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Department has received a $22 gift "out of the blue."

It is a check from Mr. and Mrs. Clair N. Fishell of 10 South Ridge East, Tiburon. The Fishells sent the check, saying the money was a refund from their insurance company since Alto received a new fire rating last year.

"We are impressed with the amount of efforts you and your men have devoted to the station," Mrs. Fishell wrote Fire Chief Carl Heynen Jr. "This is, in our small way, our thanks to you all."

Heynen said that two first aid kits have been bought with the money, to be placed on two fire trucks which were without kits. On each will be stamped the name of the contributors.

Board Of Education Welcomes Principal's Sewer Pact Proposal

Lawrence McArdell, principal of San Rafael's John MacPhail School, played "Solomon" last night for the San Rafael Board of Education when members were wrestling with a decision over sewer easements across the school property.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said Las Gallinas Sanitary District had asked for two easements. He said the district could ask as much as $2,564 for the acreage involved, but this was impractical because the district will continue to use the land.

"Ask them for $1,000 and see what they say," suggested Board member Walter R. Castro Jr.

"I think this is a business deal," added Mrs. Anita C. Strom, who was sitting on the board for the first time.

McArdell then spoke.

"Why don't you let them have it for nothing on the condition they will credit this to the cost of hooking up sewer lines to future additions?"

The board unanimously voted to adopt his suggestion.

Five new teachers and a head football coach were hired for next fall, and the board accepted 19 resignations, leaves and retirements, including 14 teachers and an associate dean.

Resignations or leaves were accepted from the following:

High school chemistry teacher Joan Ann Budz, Sun Valley School third grade teacher Mrs. Patricia Burgess, Terra Linda High School mathematics teacher Diane Donk, San Rafael English teacher Warren Ewing, Davidson School teacher Mrs. Virginia Flaherty;

Terra Linda High School business teacher Alvin S. Hoag, Sun Valley School second grade teacher Phyllis Hancock, Hartzell School fifth grade teacher Mrs. Linda Harrington, Glenwood School second grade teacher Mrs. Margaret King, Laurel Dell primary third grade teacher Mary Lenox;

Terra Linda High School associate dean Peter H. Limm, Glenwood School fifth grade teacher Patricia Mahoney, Laurel Dell Intermediate fifth grade teacher Carolyn Moore, Terra Linda High School biology teacher Janis Podoloff, elementary French teacher Calvin Bernhart, and San Pedro School second grade teacher Mrs. Bonnie Walwoord.

Ewing, who will take a disability retirement, received a round of applause when he arose at the board's request.

Hired were high school English teacher Sandra Bowles, elementary reading laboratory teacher Milton McClure, intermediate grade teacher Gary Stride, primary grade teacher Janet Walberg, and Cecil Ann Rowe, who will teach mentally retarded in the high school district.

History teacher Bradley Squires was appointed head football coach at Terra Linda High School.

The San Rafael board of Education also:

1. Appointed administrative and special service personnel for the 1965-66 year.
2. Went on record as opposing a proposed state constitutional amendment, ACA-6, which would do away with the principle of "basic aid."
3. Heard reports from physical education teachers William O'Bayley and Jack Sims on physical fitness testing at the two high schools.
4. Postponed action on a request for salary increases for the three teachers at the Terra Linda Cooperative Nursery and on the schools contract for next fall with the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum.
5. Approved change orders for revision of paving and grading at the Gallinas School project, and granting the contractor 18 days contract extension due to weather delays.
6. Approved a contract with the City of San Rafael for the recreation program, at a cost of $9,281.50 to each district.
7. Accepted a copy of a book, "The Study of Optometry," for San Rafael High School, donated by Dr. Howard A. Levenson, president of the Marin County Optometric Society.

Civil Rights Sit-In Measures Dumped

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Senators have decided there are enough laws to cope with civil rights sit-ins and have dumped a legislative package that would have cracked down further on such demonstrations.

Killed by the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday were bills by Sens. Robert J. Lagomarsino R-Ojai, and Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, aimed at tightening the state's trespass laws.

Stabbed Inmate Improves Some

Convicted murderer Charles Walter Leonard, 32-year-old San Quentin inmate, was decribed as improved but still in serious condition today, suffering from nine stab wounds in the chest inflicted Sunday in the prison gymnasium.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said the prison will hold a hearing within a week to determine what suspects will be turned over to the Marin district attorney's office.

"Our investigators are taking a look at several inmates now and until the hearing, we won't be able to say how many were involved," Park said.

He said investigators still have not uncovered a motive for the stabbing.

Radio, Sweater Stolen At Home

Burglary of a transistor radio, an ivory mah-jong set, and a sweater — total value of $266— from the home of Patrik Butler at 1100 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, was reported by sheriff's officers today.

Butler told officers entry yesterday afternoon was by prying a garage door.

Loma Verde Proposes New Deal On Landscape Work

Members of the Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. have voted to form a non-profit corporation to take over maintenance of planting strips in Loma Verde streets.

The landscaping is maintained by the county under the Loma Verde County Services Area, for which the board of supervisors levied an 18-cent tax this fiscal year.

The association's proposal is for the county to pay the non-profit corporation for the work, instead of doing it with county crews.

The association also voted to ask an increase in the budget for the work, with consequent increase in the tax rate. James R. Simon, president, said the vote was unanimous by 55 members at a meeting Monday.

The association proposed the budget be upped from $2,150 to $2,500. Simon said this would probably mean a 21-cent or 22-cent tax rate.

The propositions must be submitted to vote of the full 100 members of the homeowners association before they can be submitted to the board of supervisors, Simon said.

The county has proposed an increase in Loma Verde street lights from 2,500 lumens to 7,500 lumens. This would cost $701.20 and mean another increase in the county services area tax rate, according to Simon. The homeowners will consider this at their next meeting, he said.

Plywood Worth $2,000 Taken From Yard

Theft of $2,000 worth of plywood from a Marin City yard was reported to sheriff's deputies by Barrett Construction Co. of San Francisco.

Deputies said 308 feet of the wood were taken from a sawing yard on the east side of Donahue Street sometime last week. William Borgen of San Francisco reported the loss.

The Star-Spangled Banner, written by Francis Scott Key in 1814, was designated the National Anthem of the United States by act of Congress 117 years later, in 1931.

Ex-Fire Chief Runs Department

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Service District learned last night that former Fire Chief Richard Flaherty will run the fire department until Chief George Walser recovers from a head injury.

Walser, still in Marin General Hospital, was injured last Friday by a flying hose nozzle when firemen were filling the district's swimming pool to prevent ground water damage.

District secretary Mrs. Cleo D. Murray said Walser is expected to be released from the hospital next week.

Telephone Bill Jolts Board Of Education

Members of the San Rafael Board of Education were startled last night to learn that they are spending more than $30,000 a year on the schools' telephone bill.

The topic came up as the board came to the "utilities" section of its proposed $3.5 million high school district budget for 1965-66.

Board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. expressed shock when he spotted $17,100 for telephones.

"We have two schools and we are talking about a $17,000 phone bill?" he queried.

The current budget allots $14,000, but Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte said the high schools will actually have spent $19,000 by this fiscal year's end.

Condrotte said he has discussed numerous plans with the telephone company. None cost less, he said.

"This is only for the high school district," said Supt. Bert C. Corona. "The elementary district is another $14,000."

Kramer noted that electricity and gas were budgeted for $45,000, with water and other items making a utilities total of $70,000 in the tentative budget.

"This page is a wonderful argument for buying utility stocks," Kramer quipped.

Bus Expenses Cloud Talks On Budgeting

The topic of school buses kept cropping up at last night's meeting of the San Rafael Board of Education.

It first came up early in the evening when board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. looked at the $4,440 bill for April bus leasing and wondered aloud whether the elementary district might save money in next year's "bare bones" budget by ending bus service altogether.

Later, the board was asked to approve a contract for four new buses from DeLong Chevrolet, San Rafael, whose $30,500.88 bid was lowest of seven submitted.

Board president Walter J. Doll objected, saying it would be a mistake to buy four new buses when questions such as that posed by Kramer had not yet been answered.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said a two-week delay in awarding the contract could mean weeks of delay in delivery of the busses. Board members decided on a compromise.

They awarded contract to DeLong for two buses, at $7,486.74 per bus, and said they would consider the other two later in the month after further basic budget decisions are made.

The subject came up again when Corona gave a report on a Santa Venetia woman's suggestion that buses pick up students who live two miles from school, instead of the present three-mile limit.

Attached were two maps with circles drawn around the high schools. Corona said the two-mile limit would open bus service to 13 new areas, requiring seven more buses at an operating cost alone of $4,000 per bus.

Decision on this, too, was postponed to budget sessions.

Hedy's Daughter Plans Wedding

BERKELEY (AP) — Denise Hedy Lee, 20-year-old daughter of actress Hedy Lamarr, has announced her engagement to a professional baseball player.

The announcement was made yesterday in Berkeley, but Miss Lee said she and Lawrence Robert Colton, 23, decided last week.

Miss Lee, a sophomore majoring in design at the University of California, was visiting Colton, in Eugene, Ore., where he pitches for the Eugene Emeralds.

The two met at the Berkeley campus. Colton graduated last January with a degree in public relations.

G.I. Families Get Break On Moves

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House gave final congressional approval yesterday to a bill to cover expenses of servicemen's dependents evacuated to the United States from such hazardout areas as Viet Nam.

Under existing law, special allowances only apply when the dependents are evacuated to another overseas area.

The legislation will run until June 30, 1966.

Larkspur's O'Grady Named To Bay Area Association

Larkspur City Councilman Earl J. O'Grady, 43, was named Marin County representative to the Assn. of Bay Area Governments at a luncheon meeting yesterday of the county's mayors.

Tiburon's Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge, chairman of the County Council of Mayors, said O'Grady was selected from among several possibilities because of his ability to devote the time, and his knowledge of ABAG affairs. Eight cities were represented at the meeting at the Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera.

O'Grady will succeed former San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis as ABAG delegate. McInnis retired form his city post last month after choosing not to seek re-election.

The new delegate won election to the Larkspur City Council in April, 1964, after serving several years as member and chairman of the city's planning commission. He is an executive of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco.

Airplane Glue Sale Ban Proposal Rejected

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation aimed at classifying model airplane glue as poison — and banning its sale to people under 18—was blocked yesterday by a Senate committee.

The Senate Business and Professions Committee rejected the bill by Assemblyman Tom C. Carrell, D-San Fernando, after witnesses testified it might drive juveniles to use of more harmful narcotics.

Extra Session Set For Budget Study

Budget problems piled up so fast on the San Rafael Board of Education last night that its members scheduled a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. May 26, the day after their next regular session, to cope with them.

Board members spent 50 minutes reviewing the first half of the proposed $3.5 million high school district budget. Before that, they heard two teachers' groups proposals for an increased salary schedule.

They did not even mention the elementary district budget, which hinges on decision on whether to levy new over-ride taxes.

The salary plans were put forth by representatives of Marin County Federation of Teachers Local 1077 and the San Rafael Teachers Assn. The first proposal showed a schedule from $5,900 to $12,650, while the second ran from $5,500 to $12,500.

After hearing them, board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said he felt the board must agree on the philosophy underlying any salary changes before going into actual figures.

Postponing the budget review until 10:10 p.m., when all other items were out of the way, the board first planned to look at it only for 30 minutes, then stayed with it until 11 p.m. Members asked for explanation of several entries, but made no changes.

Who says there's no difference in margarines?

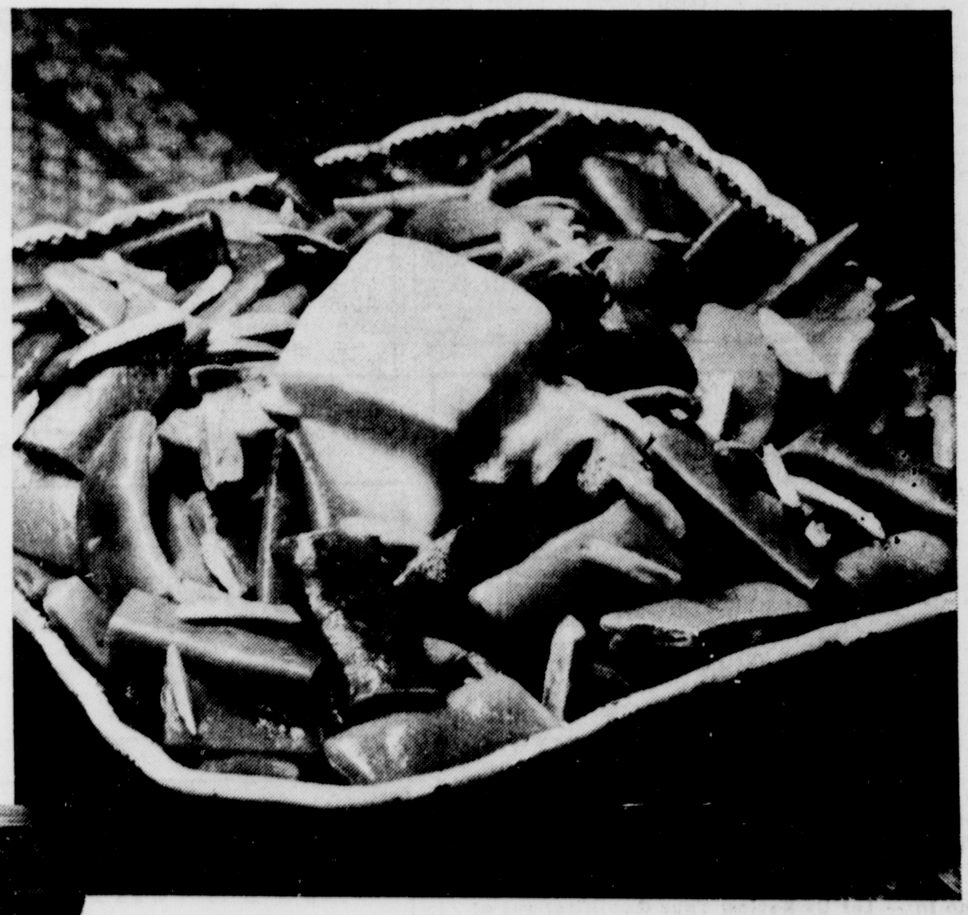
BRANDS TESTED	% POLY-UNSATURATES
Saffola	42.4%
Mazola	38.2%
Fleischmann's	35.8%
Imperial	33.3%
Kraft CORN OIL MARGARINE	27.4%

Percentage figures above are averages of total samples of each brand.

If you buy margarine for poly-unsaturation – as well as for flavor and quality – the results of a new laboratory test by the Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute are important to you!

In recent tests by America's leading independent testing laboratory, margarine samples were picked at random from grocers' shelves all across the country. These tests revealed an important difference: Saffola has more poly-unsaturates than Fleischmann's, Mazola, Imperial, Kraft and other national brands—and by a considerable margin. At the same time, the tests show that Saffola has 14% less saturated fats than any of the other brands above.

Why is Saffola both highest in poly-unsaturates and lowest in saturated fats? The answer is on every package you buy. Light, golden Safflower Oil is the principal ingredient that goes into Saffola margarine. And Safflower Oil is 36% higher in poly-unsaturates than Corn Oil—principal ingredient of the other margarines.



Saffola® SUPER MARGARINE

A flavor every other margarine would like to have!

Whether you use Saffola as a spread—or in cooking—its light, golden flavor will surprise even the most loyal dairy product user. For taste, and for superior quality, Saffola gives you more reasons to buy margarine than you've ever had before.

1,577-Apartment Plan Gets Airing

The proposed 1,577-apartment San Rafael Cayes subdivision had its first airing at the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting last night and got a generally calm reception.

The project involves zoning of a 100-acre site in the East San Rafael tidelands to merge with a 20-acre plot already earmarked for planned community development.

San Rafael Cayes Inc., the developing company, also seeks a use permit to build apartments at a density rate of one unit per 3,000 square feet of land.

L. H. Lincoln, president of the company, said the plan submitted showed the general theme envisaged and is only a "preliminary think piece."

The site, behind existing levees, would require extension of Canal Street and Bellam Boulevard. With apartment blocks fringing a central lagoon, the aim is to create "a nautical feeling for the whole parcel," said Lincoln.

He added one idea they had in mind was to extend part of some of the apartment blocks into the water as a distinctive touch.

A Canal Street area resident wanted to know if there were going to be tower apartments on the site. Lincoln replied they had planned an occasional one or three-story block to break the skyline but mainly it will be a two-story project.

Another citizen asked about the danger of children playing on the streets. He was told the plan included a six-acre park in the southwest corner near the sewage plant, and was assured there was no health hazard despite its location.

Commissioner John A. Miskimen was concerned about how the traffic problem was going to be worked out since more than 2,000 cars were expected in the area.

Second public hearing on what the commission called "this largest planned community proposal" in San Rafael will be May 25.

The commission approved rezoning of San Rafael Newport Co.'s Porto Bello West on San Pedro Road from planned community district with condominium to planned community district townhouses. A use permit for nine duplexes or 18 units was allowed conditionally.

A tentative map for this Porto Bello West development on 19 lots was also given conditional approval. The lots range from 2,200 square feet to 4,600 square feet.

A final map for San Rafael Park Unit One on Las Gallinas Avenue opposite Twelveoak Hill, submitted by Dubin Developers Inc. containing 69 lots was also approved.

Thelma Williamsen was granted a permit for a rest home at 1369-73 Lincoln Avenue.

Absent were Commissioners Carl S. Brown, Charles J. Hendrickson and chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr.

Marinwood Fire Chairman Quits

Henry Biggers of 819 Greenberry Lane, Marinwood, resigned from the Marinwood Fire Commission last night to give more time to his life insurance and pension plan business.

Biggers, who has served as commission chairman, announced his resignation at a special budget meeting. Rev. Dale Nystrom of 1000 Las Gallinas Avenue, was named to replace him as chairman.

The Marinwood Community Service District board must fill the vacancy on the commission.

MUST TRY AGAIN

Sign Changes Color, Minds Of Planners

What does a non-static neon sign do if it doesn't flash—apart from boosting the electric bill?

The question puzzled San Rafael planning commissioners last night when it cropped up as a tailpiece to a meeting which took just one hour 29 minutes. They also felt slightly hoodwinked.

Commissioner V. Judson Klein began the search for the right word when he queried the neon sign outside Locke Brothers Garage at 911 Francisco Boulevard, which was approved March 23.

At that meeting, he recalled, the commission gave architectural approval to an ordinary static sign advertising auto repairs.

"No one realized it was going to change color — but the background of that sign flashes at the rate of 68 times a minute."

A rather bemused Pat Hetherton, chairman for the evening, asked, "How on earth did you work that out?"

"I timed it," said Klein. It flashes from white to green.

City Planner George H. Rodgers said the firm that made the sign claims "it does not flash; it simply changes color."

Commissioner Thomas R. O'Toole offered, "If this sign doesn't flash, it either scintillates or pulsates."

Rodgers thought again and had the sign rotating. Someone else revolved it. Finally it was moved . . . that the garage resubmit its application together with an original clock design which had been rejected, erected, and then taken down again and which, apparently, neither pulsates nor scintillates.

Red Hill Site School Plans Must Change

Surveys and test borings at the Red Hill school site indicate school buildings cannot be nestled quite so closely to the hillside as the architect had hoped, the San Anselmo School District board learned last night.

But, architect Martin Rosse said, plans are proceeding on schedule and grading will probably start in July.

The architect also said he was doing preliminary work on needed new classrooms at the Hidden Valley School.

San Anselmo city park and recreation director Andrew J. Snyder Jr. appeared to request a contribution of $3,440 from the district to maintain a year-round recreation program at the school grounds. The matter was postponed until budget discussions.

The board voted to reappoint present teachers for next school year.

Trustees Robert Corlett and Howard McKinley were absent.

In map making, the time-honored Mercator projection shows the world as a flattened cylinder with the polar areas stretched out as wide as the Equator. Thus Mercator maps depict Greenland as twice the size of South America though it actually is only slightly larger than Mexico.

Reed Board Accepts Granada School Bid

Reed School District trustees last night accepted a low construction bid of $256,000 for an addition to the Granada School.

Low bidder was Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco. Additional alternate construction proposals, including some playground paving, cabinet work, playground irrigation, if approved by state officials would bring the total to $291,800.

The three-building addition to the school, which is constructed especially for team teaching, will include another building "cluster" to hold 100 to 120 pupils, a multi-purpose building, and a building housing libraries for pupils and teachers, offices and teacher training area.

Other base bids were Filippo Brothers, San Rafael, $269,569, and Fostmeier Construction Co., San Rafael, $292,000.

Trustees, meeting at Del Mar School, accepted the resignation of Granada Principal Paul Coste, who will become superintendent-principal of the American School of Paris at a salary of $15,000 a year.

Trustees held a closed session of about half an hour to consider a successor to Coste, but are not expected to come to a decision for about a month, Supt. Edward C. Pino reported later.

Reed School District Trustees Also:

1. Hired William H. von Lackum II of Tiburon as inspector of the Granada construction, at $550 a month for the construction period, and employed Abbot A. Hanks, Inc., San Rafael, for soils tests at the construction site.
2. Resolved in favor of a Tamalpais High School District plannel fall bond issue, amount and date of which have not yet been set.
3. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Norva S. Fagg as home economics teacher at Del Mar School.
4. Hired Patricia Hoffman as teacher at Bel Aire School.
5. Appointed trustee chairman Alyce Parkas as representative to the Citizen Committee for Sensible Unification.

Novato Senior Is Due Honors

Susan Jane Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Warner of 3 Sharilyn Lane, Novato, has been named eligible for honors at entrance at University of California at Davis.

The 17-year-old Novato High School senior is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation and won a Bank of of America award in laboratory science.

In Fair Condition

Mrs. Emma Lane, 85, of 86 Merrydale Road, San Rafael, was still in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with multiple fractures suffered in an auto accident in downtown San Anselmo last Thursday.

Marincello's Foes Stage Get-Together

Thirty members of the Committee to Save the Golden Gate held a "get acquainted" meeting last night at American Legion Hall in Mill Valley and discussed the proposed density of Marincello, which is expected to be on the county planning commission's agenda June 7.

"The main purpose of the meeting was to make people acquainted with each other," reported Peter D. Whitney, committee co-director with Leslie Hood, who presided.

Col. William J. Gannon of Mill Valley and Whitney of Inverness were appointed to a planning committee; Hood, publicity; Harlan Soeten, Mill Valley, Liaison, and Mrs. Sarah Nome, Mill Valley, coordinator of information.

Whitney said Frouge Corp., developers of the proposed city near Sausalito, proposes that density, now three and one-half family units per acre, be raised to just under six family units per acre. This, said Whitney, is believed to be unprecedented in Marin County.

Youth "Critically Ill"

Avery Routh of 700 Hawthorne Drive, Tiburon, is "critically ill" in a local hospital, his wife said today. Routh, who has been ill for a long time, has been a resident of Marin County for many years.

Half-Acre Lot Sizes Urged For Slope Area

Land in Larkspur which had been designated for a special slope policy zone was last night recommended for a simple half-acre minimum lot size zone by the Larkspur Planning Commission.

The commission asked the city council to set up a 20,000-square foot minimum lot size for undeveloped land on the city's north slope near Mill Valley. This came after discussion with planning consultant John David Erickson, who said a review of the slope policy was needed.

Erickson also briefly talked about a proposed planned unit development zone. The commission set a special meeting for 8 p.m. May 20 to discuss it, but asked for a written report for study earlier from the consultant.

The commission approved a lot split and granted architectural supervision for the Dan Coleman professional offices, across the slough behind the Greenbrae firehouse.

Also approved was a plan for a warehouse for J. H. Allen on Talley's Alley, east of Highway 101.

Nine Found Guilty Of 'Filthy Speech'

BERKELEY (UPI) — Berkeley Municipal Judge yesterday found nine persons guilty of obscenity and disturbing the peace for their part in the "filthy speech" demonstration at the University of California.

The trial grew out of campus activity last March centering around use of a vulgar four-letter word in campus rallies. Included with those sentenced was freshman David A. Bills, 19, of Belvedere.

Sausalito Councilmen Balk Over Police Chief Pay Hike

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Salaries proposed for Sausalito city employees for fiscal 1966 proved "too rich" for city councilmen last night.

Councilmen balked at raising the police chief's salary, already the highest in Marin County, even though Mayor Jan Paul Dyk noted that Marin seems to be the "plum for many criminals to pick."

The council agreed to meet six more times to discuss the budget, the next time for salaries being May 26 at 8 p.m. A full council was present.

"I think it's becoming increasingly evident that salaries are squeezing the budget," said Councilman Melvin S. Wax.

Councilman Earl F. Dunphy, finance committee chairman, noted salaries make up one-third of the cost to run the county government after Wax said the City of Sausalito has "gone up $140,000 in salaries in two years."

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown, who prepared the budget, said the city provides more services than the county.

Wax said he did not see why Chief Kenneth H. Huck's salary should go from $927 to $950 per month "when every other town in the county is less."

(Highest police chief salaries in Marin, aside from Huck's, are $905 per month paid Chief Raymond R. Buchignani in San Anselmo and $900 per month paid Chief Charles J. Chiesa in San Rafael.)

Brown said "only Sausalito and Novato have what I feel to be a competitive type department . . . the others do not bring in competent administrators and pay them what they should be paid. The measure of what the salary is is the kind of man we get."

"These salaries are comparable only if the men are comparable," said Councilman Alexander R. Imlay.

"A police chief is a police chief, Sandy," said Wax.

"Are our requirements higher for our city than most other cities?" queried Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin. "Yes, certainly, in administrative competence," replied Brown.

"I don't believe that at all," said Dunphy.

Dyk then brought up the many recent Marin burglaries and said: "Marin County is the plum to be picked. The only way to go about fighting this is to have a good police department."

Dyk noted that Sausalito has special police problems with about 7,500 people normally but 20,000 visitors on weekends, "including the crime element."

Dunphy complained that the police have six persons doing paper work. "Almost one-fourth of their day's work is in paper work . . . I think they are overburdened with paper work," he said.

Brown proposed salary adjustments which would increase the budget about three per cent, plus inclusion of $20,000 to be used in case the entire county goes up five per cent in across-the-board salaries.

He recommended these adjustments: a two-step increase for the assistant fire chief; one step for public works foreman and supervisor of public works, building inspector and fire captain; one-half step for fire and police chiefs, police sergeant, policeman and deputy finance officer, and reclassification of firemen and firemen engineer to a class of firefighter representing individual increases of from one to one and one-half step increases.

The council agreed to meet on the budget May 19 at 7:30 p.m.; May 22 at 9 a.m.; May 24 at 7:30 p.m.; May 26 at 8 p.m. and May 27 and 28 at 7:30 p.m.

A budget meeting set for tomorrow was cancelled.

10 Nominated By Chamber

Ten men have been nominated to fill five vacancies on the board of directors of the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

Directors will be elected at 8 p.m. May 25 in the chamber office, 863 Sweetzer Avenue, according to Lee Wise, nominating committee chairman.

Nominated are incumbent Leif Evensen and James Adair, George Barnwell, Ralph Giovanniello, Eldon Hasstedt, Larry Locke, Charles Meyers, William Siler, Angelo Siragusa and Glen Tovani.

Center Absentee Ballots Deadline

Deadline for obtaining absentee voting ballots for the $7,750,000 Civic Center bond issue election June 8 is 5 p.m. on June 1, County Clerk George H. Gnoss said today.

The absentee ballots must be returned to the county clerk's office by 5 p.m. June 7. Absentee voting started Monday.

Appraisals Draw Plenty Of Protests

Protests over new appraisals of property on Belvedere and the Tiburon Peninsula gave 18 assessors at the information center in Mill Valley their busiest day yesterday.

Asst. County Assessor Herschel Johnson said 135 property owners appeared at yesterday's session. This was not a record number, but the owners had more to say than usual, making it a very busy day, he reported.

Most of those at the center were complaining of increases of 50 per cent and more in appraised value, Johnson said. He said about 40 per cent of the property on which complaints were entered will be reviewed by the assessor.

The last information center session will to be held today at Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley. It was to begin at 1:30 p.m. and continue until 9 p.m.

Certain bees have their own air conditioning system in the summer and heating systems in the winter: Fanning their wings to keep the hive cool and warming the queen bee's quarters with their own bodies.

Boys' Chorus To Perform In County

The San Francisco Boys' Chrous, founded to sing children's parts in opera productions, will perform Friday at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

The concert, sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club, will start at 8 p.m.

Under direction of Madi Bacon, the chorus has trained more than 850 boys during the past 16 years. The boys, between eight and 14 years old, have appeared on national television and have entertained visiting dignitaries.

The chorus participated in the recording of "Boris Goudanoff," directed by Leopold Stokowski. Parts with the San Francisco Opera Company are sung in several languages.

The boys rehearse once each week after the end of the San Francisco Opera season, and spend four weeks during the summer at a music camp on the Feather River.

Singer Teaches

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Marjorie Lawrence, a former Metropolitan Opera sorprano, now lives here. She is the director of opera workshop in Southern Illinois University's music department.

Just A Song At Twilight But It's Heard At San Anselmo City Hall

When an organ plays at twilight in San Anselmo, the reverberations are felt at city hall.

San Anselmo city councilmen were faced last night with a lady organist who wanted the city's curfew on noise advanced beyond 9 p.m.

Virginia L. Hinshaw of 1550 San Anselmo Avenue said the 9 p.m. curfew is not realistic and provides "a heckler with a legal hammer over my head, in insisting that my electric organ, played very moderately, causes vibrations which keep him awake at 9 p.m., or within minutes thereafter."

Her neighbor, Robert Lantis, 1552 San Anselmo Avenue, said he has two children who have to sleep, and charged that he could hear the organ playing over television.

City Atty. John G. Buresh said that he didn't feel the ordinance to abate noise referred to organ music, but "raucous, nerve-racking noises."

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said it was the first complaint against organs. He described it as "an unusual and unique situation" because the two homes are close together. He opposed extending the curfew to a later hour.

Councilmen decided not to change the law.

Some persons think practical jokes for April 1 originated in France in 1564 when Charles IX made the year begin Jan. 1 instead of April 1. Those who objected to the change were given mock New Year's gifts on April 1.

Seventy-six per cent of the nation's farms have telephones, of which 90 per cent are dial phones.

Henry J. Broderick, apportionment; Rodgers C. Broomhead, manpower; Philip A. Crane Jr., legal; James J. Crumpacker, publicity; Harry Diner, special events; James A. Lill, communications; Allan N. Littman, community affairs; James McNab, first district affairs; Charles Michals, speakers; James R. Osborn, membership, and Edmond C. Ward, resolutions.

Next event for the Marin Republican Council is the annual Angel Island picnic on June 12. Diner is in charge of arrangements.

$225 From Yearbook Fund Is Stolen At Novato High

Theft of $225 from the yearbook fund at Novato High School was reported Monday night to Novato police by Jon Michael Cragg, faculty adviser to the yearbook staff.

Gragg told police the money was taken from his room at the high school between April 20 and Monday.

Three cases of vandalism at Novato schools during the weekend were reported.

Someone entered the West Novato School by unscrewing a window, Charlotte Caldwell Hales, a school employee, told police.

A fire extinguisher was taken from a school bus at the high school between 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Friday, reported Gordon R. Smith, bus driver.

Someone with a B-B gun broke out 32 panes of window glass at Olive School, custodian Ray Monson told police. This occurred between 4 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Monday, he said.

San Rafael Cab Firm Gets Hub Franchise Without Fuss

There was harmony last night when the San Anselmo City Council awarded San Rafael Yellow Cab Co. a franchise to operate in the Hub City.

San Anselmo Yellow Cab, which fought the San Rafael firm for the franchise and won in February, gave its blessings to the change.

"There is pending a sale of our equipment and vehicles to San Rafael Taxi Cab, Inc.," J. C. Youngberg, owner of the San Anselmo company, explained.

He said the San Rafael company wants to continue the service being provided by the San Anselmo firm, which operates four cabs in the city.

In February the council gave the San Anselmo firm a six-month franchise and kept the San Rafael application on file in case service was not satisfactory.

Last night it awarded the franchies to the San Rafael firm until the end of the year.

The council also accepted the resignation of Planning Comissioner Charles R. Leitzell, who was appointed city engineer last month.

Leitzell, who had been a planning commissioner for five years and chairman for two, said his job as city engineer would not be compatible with serving on the commission.

Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro said three persons have expressed interest in serving on the commission and there may be more before the council considers filling the vacancy at its May 25 meeting.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Postponed discussion of the Memorial Park Master Plan because of absence of Recreation Director Andrew Snyder, Councilman William Franchini and other interested persons.

2. Received a petition with 15 signatures asking the council to take action to remove "a pile of concrete" from a lot opposite 441 Laurel Avenue, and a letter signed by four persons questioning the legality of the complaint. Council took no action, explaining that the owner of the concrete has consented to remove it by May 31.

3. Authorized a brighter street lamp at Sequoia Drive and Bungalow Avenue after receiving a request for a new street light at 15 Bungalow Avenue because of gasoline thefts and reports of prowlers.

4. Approved a list of plants for planting in the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard parkway between the Hub and Tunstead Avenue, and gave City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt authority to purchase plants that may be needed after contributions are received from service clubs..

5. Postponed action on a request from County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel to support the proposed senior citizens property tax reimbursement program, which would give a tax break to property owners over 65 with low income. Councilmen said they want to read the bill before they take a stand.

6. Authorized purchase of surplus Civil Defense chairs and desks at a cost of $35, for use by the parks and recreation department.

7. Granted Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bachelder permission to place a culvert on their property at 70 Allyn Avenue.

8. Postponed action for two weeks on a request by the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce to install a five-by-seven foot directional sign in the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard island at Tunstead Avenue, indicating the shopping area. The proposed illuminated, green and white sign would stand 14 foot six inches high on a steel pole.

9. Requested Leitzell to study San Rafael's proposed ordinance on underground utilities to detremine which regulations could be used in a similar ordinance in San Anselmo.

10. Adjourned until next Tuesday at 8 p.m. for a special meeting with the Sleepy Hollow Fire District board on the fire district budget.

Novato Approves $500 To Help Little League

The Novato City Council last night, by 4-to-1 vote, agreed to spend $500 from the city parks and recreation fund for improving baseball practice fields for the use of Little League.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow cast the dissenting vote.

The money was specifically earmarked for equipment rental on tractors to be used by men interested in Little League to smooth out the 13 practice fields on school playgrounds.

City Mgr. J. Julien Baget, and Parks and Recreation Director Edward W. Adams both recommended against the appropriation, which had been approved by the parks and recreation commission.

"The city cannot make a direct contribution to Little League," Baget told the council. He predicted a deficit of $5,000 to $8,000 in operation of the municipal swimming pool this year, and he urged that the council look at the whole recreation budget before granting the Little League money.

Adams said the city helped the Little League by giving it free use of the community house, helping with its schedules and duplicating them. He said spending $500 from the parks and recreation fund might curtail some recreation programs.

James Douglas McNeil, representing Little League, then asked the council to seriously consider the request of Little League for $6,500 in next year's city budget.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Authorized purchase of three police cars through the state. This will save about $700 per car from past bid prices, said Charles Foster, finance officer.

2. Passed ordinances adopting 1964 building and plumbing codes and the 1962 electrical code.

3. Granted Fun Fair Shows a carnival license at Nave Shopping Center for June 2-6.

4. Appointed Foster as city treasurer, effective July 1, to replace Mrs. Barbara Luft.

5. Set hearings for May 25 on Steven C. Keeler's application to split a 19,340-square foot lot at 1255 Yukon Way, Shell Oil Co.'s request for a free standing sign at the Novak Shopping Center at Novato Boulevard and Wilson Avenue. The Keeler subdivision was protested last night by a petition with 40 signatures. Mrs. Bob B. Romies of 28 Pico Vista presented a petition with eight signatures against the Shell sign. Both had been approved by the planning commission.

6. Passed ordinances rezoning from agricultural to residential the Meadowbrook Estates, Rancho Village Unit 9 and San Marin Unit 7A; from industrial to administrative, the corporation yard of North Marin County Water District, and from agricultural to duplex, Beverly Maple Unit 2.

7. Introduced an ordinance rezoning from agricultural to residential 33 acres at Tamalpais Avenue and Hill Road.

8. Denied an appeal by Frank J. De Borba and Gulf Oil Co. from planning commission turned down of a service station at Novato Boulevard and Diablo Avenue, and an appeal by Marin Oaks Development Co. from planning commission denial of a front setback variance for a home.

9. Denied a claim by Glen M. A. Richardson of 1221 Vallejo Avenue of $500 for damages allegedly suffered on Feb. 12 on Industrial Way in an accident with a police car driven by Officer Harry E. Hirsch.

10. Went on record favoring State Assembly Bill 1615 which would authorize a local cigarette tax of two cents per pack, and backing the Marin County Board of Supervisors in asking for a $40,000 federal study of flood control on Novato Creek.

11. Accepted San Marin Unit 1 as completed.

12. After a closed session, appointed Lt. Col. (ret.) Jack B. Holsclaw of 11 Orchard Way to fill a vacancy on the parks and recreation commission left by resignation of Donald Slezak. The term expires next Dec. 31.

Picher Re-Elected By Audubon Society

William S. Picher of Belvedere was re-elected last night as president of the Marin Audubon Society.

Other officers elected were Dudley Hubbard, Mill Valley, first vice president; Robert Mayer, Sausalito, second vice president; Mrs. Philip Pratt, Mill Valley, secretary, and Elizabeth Hay Bechtel, Ross, treasurer.

Novato Works To Round Out City Limits

The Novato City Council and Local Agency Formation Commission are working on a program to round out the Novato city limits.

The city council last night approved annexation of 62 acres in 31 parcels at Sutro Avenue and Vineyard Road. Mr. and Mrs. John Hogan were the only objectors to the annexation.

The Local Agency Formation Commission has started a policey of requiring areas that annex to the Novato Sanitary District to annex to the City of Novato at the same time The first three of these were to go before the County Boundary Commission today, then back to the city council. They are the Hune subdivision of three acres on Center Road and Theresa Court, Castlewood Subdivision No. 2 of four and one-half acres at Eucalyptus Avenue and Novato Boulevard, and seven and one-half acres owned by Roberts and Aguirre adjacent to the sanitary district office at the end of Davidson Street.

Marin County has gained 20,000 people since the 1960 census at a rate of 753 per month.

Youth Booked In Shoplifting

Lary Joseph Goldsmith, 18, of 21 Birch Street, Mill Valley, was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday by San Rafael police on a shoplifting charge.

Released on bail of $276, he was to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Police said Goldsmith walked out of the Western Sport Shop at 902 Third Street yesterday with a Bowie knife without paying for it. The youth claimed he only took it outside to show it to his friends.

Reluctant Bandit Gets $25 From Gas Station

Service station attendant Steve McClure, 18, was about to hand some trading stamps to a customer when he found himself staring at a small revolver pointed at his stomach at 5:43 a.m. today in Corte Madera.

The driver of a green car said he did not want to commit a robbery, but "had to." He asked McClure for all the cash he had at the Standard station on Madera Boulevard next to Highway 101.

McClure, of 60 Corte Cayuga, Greenbrae, handed the robber the cash box tray. The gunman scooped out the money, about $25, then drove away.

McClure noted the license number of the car.

The robber was described as a young Negro, possibly a teenager, but since he did not leave the car, McClure could make no estimate of his height or build.

The car was found abandoned on the Highway 101 ramp near Marin City later this morning.

The auto was registered to Betty J. Revada, 79 Cole Drive, Marin City. It had not been reported stolen. Officers were unable to find the owner today to question her.

Tomales Annex Plan On Agenda

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission tomorrow will hold a hearing on the proposal to annex a large block of land on the east side of Tomales Bay to the North Marin Water District.

The meetings begins at 8:15 a.m. in the supervisors chambers at the Civic Center.

Electric Firm Cleared To Bid On County Job

An arbitration board of three engineers, meeting at the Marin County Civic Center, decided yesterday that electrical panels produced by Zinsco Electric are just as good as those produced by four other companies.

The decision means that an injunction filed against the county to stop work on the family rehabilitation center will be withdrawn, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney explained.

Zinsco had filed suit claiming that a subcontractor's specification prevented Zinsco from bidding. The county counsel and Zinsco's attorney agreed to put the dispute before the panel of engineers. Zinsco can now join in the bidding to supply the electrical panels, Maloney said.

Novato Asked To Enforce Pool Fencing

Despite a drowning every year, Novato still does not enforce its ordinance requiring fencing of swimming pools, Robert A. Strale of 1298 Parkwood told the Novato City Council last night.

Strale, appearing before the council as a representative of Lynwood Park Improvement Assn., said he had checked the 16 apartment buildings on Leafwood Drive, scene of a near-drowning a few weeks ago, and found violations of the pool safety ordinance at all but two.

City Mgr. J. Julien Baget said Strale and Mrs. George Ungemach of 1257 Cambridge, representing Lynwood Parent-Teacher Assn., had sent letters protesting the unprotected pools.

Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works and building inspection, agreed that there were violations in inadequate fencing and unsafe gates. Owners have been notified of the violations by registered mail, he said.

The Black Point launching ramp is located on Petaluma Creek at Black Point.

Anti-Solicitor Ordinance Due Novato Consideration

The Novato City Council will consider an anti-solicitor ordinance at its May 25 meeting.

Hearing was set by the council last night after Mrs. Esther Davis of 27 Washington Street added her voice to that of Mrs. Irene Zanecki of 17 Hillswood Drive who had asked at the April 27 meeting for such an ordinance.

A proposal to enact the "Green River Ordinance"—so named for Green River, Wyo., where it originated—to outlaw all door-to-door solicitation was turned down by the Novato council two years ago.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer said there is a difficulty in framing such an ordinance.

"Federal law under the First Amendment protects the magazine and book salesmen," said Palmer. He said this class of salesman can not be touched, and they know it."

He added, "You will be surprised at how many representatives of solicitors agencies will be at the meeting."

The Hundred Years' War, a long struggle between England and France interrupted by two treaties and many truces, went on intermittently between 1338 and 1453, 115 years.

U.S.-Mexican Group Offers Help To Farms

SAN JOSE (AP)—The Mexican-American Unity Council has offered to recruit an additional "3,000 to 10,000" farm workers to help salvage the ripening strawberry crop in the Salinas Valley.

The offer came yesterday at a closed-door meeting here between the Unity Council, representatives of the strawberry growers and officials of the state farm service.

Earlier in the day, State Employment Director Albert B. Tieburg had endorsed a request for 2,150 more Mexican workers, or braceros, for immediate use in the Salinas Valley strawberry and vegetable harvest. Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz previously had approved importation of 1,063.

"We think we can have the full force of volunteers in the fields in 10 days to two weeks," said Leandro P. Soto, a public relations director for the Unity Council.

Soto said an additional meeting will be held today to start the recruitment.

Thomas McNamara, a foreman for Salinas Strawberries, Inc., earlier had warned that the firm stands to lose a $5 million fourth-year crop "if we don't have 2,500 workers within the next two weeks."

The Mexican-American farm laborers handled most of the strawberry picking in the Salinas Valley prior to World War II, when they began to be squeezed out by the braceros, who worked for considerably lower wages.

The agreement reached in San Jose yesterday specified that the Mexican-Americans would receive the same benefits which U. S. Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz has promised the braceros: a $1.40 an hour minimum wage and adequate food and housing.

Alcohol, Drug Measure Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Drivers under the combined influence of drugs and alcohol—regardless of the quantity—would be guilty of a felony if they cause bodily injury to another under a measure which has been approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Under present law, a driver must be legally drunk to be liable for a felony charge, which can send him to state prison.

Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, author of the bill, said yesterday it would cover the driver who had only a few drinks.

Mrs. Strom Plans To Quit Parks Group In San Rafael

Mrs. Anita C. Strom, appointed to the San Rafael Board of Education on May 3, said yesterday that she will resign soon from the city's parks and recreation commission.

"I have not yet discussed the matter with the city council, but I imagine I will carry on until another person is appointed," she said.

Although there is apparently no legal ruling to prevent her serving on both the board of education and the parks and recreation commission, Mrs. Strom said she felt she would not be able to do justice to both jobs.

Carl J. Brown was chairman of the parks and recreation commission when elected to the board of education in April, 1963, and continued to serve on both until the following December when he resigned from the former because of the extra work.

There may be a second vacancy cropping up on the commission. On May 3 the city council asked Irwin Tarranto to resign. He has refused to do so and at its meeting next Monday the council may dismiss him.

Assembly Recall Ban Bill Killed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A constitutional amendment that would have prevented voters from recalling assemblymen has been rejected by the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee.

The measure by Assemblyman Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles, specified that elected officials could not be recalled in either the first or last years of their terms. It was killed yesterday.

That would have ruled out recalls of assemblymen, since lower house members serve only two years.

Funeral Bill Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill regulating pay-in-advance funeral plans has won a Senate committee's approval over the protests of opponents who claimed it would prohibit pre-need funeral trusts.

She will be seen off by a group of friends from Redwood High School, according to her chaperone for the trip, Patricia Corbett of the Marin Visitors Bureau. Her family will also accompany her to the contest.

Almost every type of cloth weaving today was used by primitive man.

Senators Cancel On Poll Tax Vote

The two California senators voted against each other yesterday when the U.S. Senate defeated the anti-poll tax amendment to the voting rights bill.

The amendment would have banned poll taxes as a requirement for voting in state and local elections. It was defeated 49 to 45.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel voted for the amendment. Sen. George Murphy voted against it.

Twin's Killing Witness Said In Police Pay

PASADENA (AP) — Counsel for wealthy Tim Nicholson, charged with the murder of his twin brother, claims an important prosecution witness is on the police payroll.

The witness is Ernesto Bernal, a Mexican house painter from Phoenix, who testified yesterday that Nicholson threatened to kill Todd Nicholson, 22, minutes before Todd was fatally shot last Dec. 7.

Bernal's testimony contradicted a claim made Monday in the opening defense statement to the jury that it was Todd who threatened Tim.

On cross-examination yesterday, Tim's attorney asked Bernal if it was not true that he had been on the police payroll since Jan. 27. The phrase "police payroll" drew objections from the prosecution.

Bernal acknowledged that he and his wife have been in California since late January and that the county has been paying their rent and telephone and providing $35 weekly for groceries.

Bernal told the jury Todd hired him to paint an apartment building owned by the twins in nearby Temple City, where the shooting took place.

He said he heard Tim talking to his brother, "but Todd wouldn't pay any attention to him."

Then, said Bernal, Tim took off his coat, braced himself in the doorway to the bathroom where Todd was combing his hair, and kicked Todd in the back.

Todd entered the bedroom and Tim took a rifle from a gun rack, the witness said.

"I became scared," said Bernal. "Tim said, 'I kill you' to Todd."

Bernal at that point ran to the apartment manager's office. He said Tim came there about five minutes later and "Tim told the manager, 'I shooted Todd.'"

The manager found Todd lying on a bed, clutching his stomach, the painter said.

Raceway Hobby Center Will Open; McPhail's Has New TV Manager

Many Mill Valley juniors are impatiently awaiting the opening of a new venture at the corner of Lovell and Corte Madera Avenues, which is now scheduled to get under way in another week or so.

This is King's Raceway and Hobby Center, a project of brothers Douglas and Hans King of Belvedere. It will have three model car raceways of eight lanes each, providing some 680 feet of track.

Bank of America's Small Business Reporter notes that model car racing is one of California's fastest growing forms of indoor recreation, with more than half the total volume of racing business in the U. S. done in this state. To the surprise of some toy manufacturers and retailers, model car kits are now outselling model trains.

The hoppy-sport began in England about 17 years ago, but has been slow in its introduction to the American public. California at least is now making up for lost time. It is estimated that 50 to 60 per cent of the industry's customers are under 17.

Campbell

King's will also handle kits and accessories.

NEW MANAGER of the television and service department at MCPhail's in San Rafeal is Robert E. Campbell of Novato. He has been engaged in television work for the past 10 years and is a commissioner for the Novato fire district.

McPhail's has qualified for the Award of Merit by the Frigidaire Division of General Motors for outstanding customer service.

GRAHAM L. HARRIS of San Rafael has been made head of the commercial division at Dohemann and Co. real estate office, San Rafael. He was previously with Continental Can Co. and also project manager with the Draper Companies.

CARL HARLEEN JR. of Terra Linda was awarded a Master of Photography degree by the Professional Photographers of America, Inc. the organization's recent exposition in New York. He is sole owner of the Dickey and Harleen commercial photography studios in San Francisco.

A "SET ASIDE" PROJECT for small business concerns is the building of an aircraft maintenance building at Hamilton Air Force Base. Bids are due at the District Public Works Office, 12th Naval District, San Bruno, on May 19 at 2 p.m. Proposed building is to be pile-supported, with concrete floor slabs, steel framing and corrugated metal siding — estimated cost $1,000,000.

LOUIS F. CIMINA of Corte Madera, assistant secretary in the real estate loan department of Wells Fargo Bank, will talk on "How to Choose a Home and Pay for It" in the fourth of a series of five money management lectures tomorrow night at the YWCA Center, 965 Clay Street, San Francisco.

THIRTEEN Marin County Insurance men have qualified this year for membership in the Million Dollar Round Table, which will hold its annual meeting June 28-July 1 in Colorado Springs.

From San Rafael: Douglas J. Boswell, Nicholas J. Dollwet, Allan S. Feder, Thomas R. Nelson, James L. Placak, Edward K. Wachsman and Carroll Walker.

From Belvedere: Robert A. Davies, Albert L. Hand and Edward J. Mitchell.

From San Anselmo: Joseph P. Burke.

From Sausalito: William R. Ryan and Mrs. Eve B. Wyatt.

LIQUOR LICENSE of Bon Air Supermarket (now closed) of Greenbrae is in the process of transfer to Mayfair Markets and Arden - Mayfair, Inc., for the store to be established in the Downtown Shopping Center, Novato, when it opens in the fall.

Some Airlines, Coppers Make Impressive Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed irregularly higher today with impressive gains by some airlines, coppers and selected issues. Trading was active.

Eastern Air Lines was up 2 and Kennecott nearly 3.

Ahead more than a point were International Telephone and Jones & Laughlin.

Gains of a full point were posted for Du Pont, Control Data and American Telephone. IBM gained 4.

Down fractionally were Xerox and Polaroid. Chrysler lost nearly a point. Radio Corp. eased. General Motors and U.S. Steel edged higher.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.2 million shares compared with 5.16 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

In active trading, Reynolds Metals rose about 1, Aluminium nearly a point and Alcoa a fraction as the aluminums responded further to increases in product prices.

The volume leader for the day seemed to be Standard Oil of Indiana which traded on a single block of 170,000 shares at a fractional loss, later being quoted unchanged.

Some of the color television stocks drove ahead, among them Motorola up about 1 and Admiral, ahead about 2 but Radio Corp. lost a fraction on profit taking.

Gold-mining issues were weak. Homestake lost a fraction, Dome Mines and American-South African Investment about a point each.

Great selective strength was shown by coppers. Kennecott advanced well over 2, Magma Copper almost 2, while Anaconda was unchanged and Phelps Dodge added a fraction.

Airlines also showed flashes of strength. Eastern Air Lines and TWA gained about 2. Delta and KLM rose about a point each.

Other gains of a point or so were posted by Bell & Howell, Carlisle, Continental Air Lines, Dan River Mills, General Telephone and Korvette.

Prices moved generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds showed scant change. Trading was light.

Stockholders' Votes Favor Rail Mergers

CHICAGO (UPI) — Stockholders of the Milwaukee Road and Union Pacific railroads voted yesterday to merge their lines respectively with the North Western and Rock Island railroads.

The overwhelming approval of merger plans was the latest development in the trend toward consolidation of the nation's railroads.

"Merger is the order of the day, a necessity in the railroad industry," William J. Quinn, president of the Milwaukee Road, said.

The Milwaukee Road vote, conducted in Chicago, was 1,948,178 shares to 15,285. North Western stockholders will vote on the proposed merger May 18. Quinn said he did not foresee "too much opposition."

The Union Pacific merger plan, voted on in Salt Lake City, passed with 95 per cent approval. Rock Island stockholders previously had approved it.

A merger of the Union Pacific and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad (Rock Island) would create a 16,000-mile line running from Chicago, St. Louis and Minneapolis to Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles.

A merger of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad (Milwaukee Road) and tthe Chicago and North Western railway would combine the Milwaukee's 10,533 miles of track with the North Western's 10,416 miles into a 20-state system serving the area between the Great Lakes and the Pacific Northwest.

Economy Shows Signs Of Keeping Pace Up

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Forecasters of an imminent economic slowdown may have to revise their tie schedules once more.

Halfway through the second quarter, business on the average is holding close to the record pace set in the first three months of the year.

Many had predicted a letdown about now after what they dubbed the two feverish activity in the first quarter. But so far, slips here and there are being offset by continuing gains in other sectors. The general slowdown may come, but it hasn't registered in the statistics yet.

Two sectors of industry most suspect are steel and autos, both booming in the first three months for reasons that in part at least seemed temporary.

Steel stocks were being built up under threat of a May 1 strike deadline now postponed till Sept. 1.

Autos were being turned out in record numbers, partly to make up for time lost in last fall's strikes.

But auto sales are still high, if a bit below the record February levels. And the public has yet to register any letdown in desire to buy new cars.

Steel demand is reported still strong. Output is off slightly from the record tonnage poured in the week ended April 24 but is 9 per cent higher than a year ago.

Order backlogs in industry as a whole have been rising. And inventories in general have been growing, due in large part to businessmen's belief that future sales prospects will mean busy production lines.

At the consumer level demand remains high for most goods. Retail sales of nondurable goods edged higher in April. There was one per cent slip in durable goods volume, mostly due to fewer cars being sold than in March. But total retail sales, at $22.8 billion, were 7 per cent above the volume in April 1964—and hardly a convincing sign of any economic slowdown as yet.

Employment rose 901,000 in April, and unemployment dropped 188,000. The 71 million Americans with jobs were as a whole enjoying higher incomes than a year ago. And all signs point to another increase in total personal incomes this quarter from the record set earlier in the year. The high rate of consumer spending, and the record level of instalment credit, seems to assure little, if any, letdown in general economic activity.

Much of the fear of a slowdown comes from the greater-than-predicted growth of the general economy in the first three months of the year from the levels set in the final months of 1964.

But even if this rate of growth isn't maintained in the second quarter, that's far from meaning that the second quarter can't be better in total volume than the first. And at the halfway point there are no convincing signs that it won't be.

Auto Production Helps More Than Car Makers

By JESSE BOGUE

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 7-million car years have meant revenue for more than just the car makers, an Automobile Manufacturers Assn. publication discloses.

Taxing bodies — the federal government, and state and local governments—have been able to build increasing amounts of income year by year as the car production totals have grown, the association's 1965 edition of "Automobile Facts and Figures" discloses.

In 1954, for example, in the special motor vehicles tax tables, collections of federal excise taxes were $2,204,000,000 and the total of other taxes—state gross registration receipts, state gasoline taxes, special city and county taxes and bridge, tunnel, ferry and road tolls were $4,031,000,000, an overall total of $6,235,000,000.

Then the pace of car production began to expand, more Americans took to the road, and by 1960, the total of special motor vehicle taxes had reached 11 digits—$10,445,000,000.

Last year, according to preliminary data estimated by the AMA, the total of special taxes was $12,832,000,000. Federal excise taxes, these estimates showed, were $5,465,000,000, and the total of other taxes in the four categories listed above was $7,367,000,000.

The ubiquitous truck also paid a whopping sum in special taxes. In 1954, federal excise taxes were $465,000,000, and other taxes, including state motor carrier and miscellaneous fees, were $1,309,000,000, for a grand total of $1,773,000,000.

By 1964, the total of special truck taxes, again according to preliminary data estimated by the AMA, had more than doubled. Below the federal level, special taxes were $2,341,000,000 and federal excise taxes $1,510,000,000, a total of $3,851,000,000.

Natomas Co. Quarterly Income Up

SAN FRANCISCO — Natomas Co. has reported combinet net income for the first quarter of 1965 of $55,420, an increase of $94,210 over the same period last year.

Improvement was linked to the better performance of shipping companies in which Natomas is interested.

Net income from investments and operations totaled $184,101 compared to $201,625 for 1964. Included in the current year's net income is a prior year's adjustment of $161,809, reflecting a reduction in depreciation on the international building during the period 1962-64.

Natomas Co.'s share of the undistributed earnings of its steamship interests increased to $371,319 as compared to a loss of $107,415 for first quarter when a maritime strike was in progress.

On a per share basis, combined net income for the first quarter was 18 cents compared with 3 cents in 1964. The book value of Natomas Co.'s shares increased to $16.61 per share.

Exports Hit March Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. exports rose to a record $2.8 billion in March, following cettlement of the East Coast dock strike, the Commerce Department has reported.

March exports, seasonally adjusted, were 73 per cent higher than the February total of $1.6 billion. This big gain reflected above-normal export activity at the ports once the dock strike was settled, the department said.

The strike began Jan. 11, and continued through the middle of February.

Herbel Can't Hit, But What A Pitcher

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fans in Candlestick Park know how to show their appreciation.

They gave Ron Herbel a good round of applause last night for fouling off a bunt. It was the only time all evening he hit the ball.

The 27-year-old pitcher has yet to get a major league hit in 55 times at bat over two seasons for the San Francisco Giants. At this point, they couldn't care less.

Although he needed relief help to get the last batter, Herbel set down the Chicago Cubs 3-0 on six hits and one walk. He struck out nine.

The Giants hosted the Cubs again today at Candlestick.

Herbel gave up two singles in the first. Billy Williams got one of his three singles in the fourth, but was wiped out on a double play.

An infield single by Vic Roznovsky in the eighth ended a string of 12 consecutive retired batters by Herbel, who squared his record at 2-2.

Meanwhile, Herbel was striking out four times, twice trying to bunt. This still left him somewhat back of the Cubs' Bob Buhl who once went 72 consecutive appearances without a hit, and Detroit's Hank Aguirre, who's made it to the 80's on occasion.

Asked afterwards to reveal his hitting secrets, Herbel laughed.

"(Coach) Cookie Lavagetto) worked with me this year on the bunting machine," Herbel disclosed. "It looks like he did a terrible job.

"My fast ball was my big pitch tonight. My curve was good, but my slider was erratic. My sinker—sometimes my best pitch—just wasn't there," said Herbel in analyzing his third start this year for the Giants.

Willie McCovey and Willie Mays got all Herbel needed in the third. McCovey crossed up an overshifted Cub defense by doubling to left off loser Larry Jackson, now 2-3. Mays, three-for-three, singled in McCovey as Doug Clemens' throw from right sailed to the backstop.

The Giants got their second run in the fourth on singles by Jim Davenport, Hal Lanier and Matty Alou. They scored again in the fifth on singles by McCovey and Mays and a throwing error on Glenn Beckert, who was trying for a double play.

Williams and Ron Santo put together back-to-back singles with two out in the ninth. Herbel left for reliever Frank Linzy who struck out major league runs-batted-in leader Ernie Banks on three pitches.

"I threw him two sliders," explained Linzy. "The second pitch was a strike, but the last one was a sinker ball that went outside."

Herbel was given a rousing ovation by the 9,912 fans when he left the game — even louder than for his fouled-up bunt attempt.

Alvin Dark Should Manage Again; Duffalo's Headaches, Heartaches

CONNOLLY

It was a silly question to ask Alvin Dark if he missed managing the S.F. Giants? His answer, though, wasn't silly. Rather it was sound, analytical and decisive with no tone of resentment.

"Would you miss a $30,000 salary cut?"

The answer implied a deep wound to his pride and a shock to his pocketbook. Looking back on the circumstances of Dark's appointment to the head job with the Giants, many baseball men feel his fate was sealed the day he signed. All during his four-year tenure of office, Alvin made no attempt to get close to the S.F. fans and made no effort to endear himself to baseball followers. This was especially true when he dropped Lefty O'Doul, one of S.F.'s idols, as a batting coach.

No one could call Alvin Dark an interloper in San Francisco, but the fans were not ready to accept him as the type of manager they had been used to cheering. Horace Stoneham, his boss and owner of the club, never did get to confide in his manager.

The Giant "brass" say, even when it looked like the S.F. club would capture the 1964 pennant, the betting odds were against Alvin returning in 1965. And that, they say, was long before the wild story attributed to Alvin about his players made the papers.

LEO DUROCHER, or the late Freddie Hutchinson, might have been the true type of manager S.F. fans could adopt. They had just enough of the rough stuff in them to satisfy a S.F. audience.

Alvin Dark's habits, conversation and behavior, while here, were always above reproach. As a gentleman he had no peer. He was sarcastic and sharp to me at times, but perhaps with reason. As a player Alvin proved an inspiration to his teammates. As manager it wasn't quite the same.

BUT MAKE no mistake about it, the experience Alvin Dark gained as manager of the Giants will some day pay him big dividends. I can't help thinking he will become a manager again, and if he does, I can't see anything that will keep him from succeeding. For one thing I believe Alvin will accept newspapermen as a necessary nuisance. The jinx on Alvin as manager of the Giants can be traced to Andre Rodgers, for whom he was swapped. They put the hex on him way in advance. Next time it can't happen.

YOU'D PROBABLY need a computer to register the number of headaches and heartaches Jim Duffalo had before being traded off to the Cincy Reds for pitcher Bill Henry.

A kindly soul, farm boy type, Jim never seemed able to recover from punishment dished out to him because he refused to deliberately hit an opposing pitcher who hit a Giant batter. It was a rule—an iron fast rule—of former Manager Dark that Giant pitchers had to protect their teammates. Duffalo got orders, never paid any attention to them and as a result wrote his own death warrant as a regular pitcher with the S.F. club.

If each club in the National Laegue has to do the policing for the umpires, then it is reaching a sorry state of affairs. The umps have to get some support in beanballing incidents. And when they can fire a pitcher out of the game right away, beanballing will stop.

Plans Move Ahead On Net Tourney

Plans were officially laid out yesterday for the first Peacock Gap International Tennis Tournament which is scheduled for May 27 through 31 at the San Rafael club's courts.

The tourney will include such names as Ken Rosewall, Pancho Gonzales and Rod Laver. It is being co-sponsored by Peacock Gap and the Independent-Journal. Plans were outlined yesterday at a press luncheon at Peacock Gap.

A championship stadium to seat 3,500 spectators is currently being built at Peacock Gap Country Club and it's scheduled to be completed next Monday.

Also officially announced yesterday was the Peacock Gap Youth Tennis Foundation to promote the game for the youngsters. The profits from the five-day tourney will go to the foundation, said Jerome C. Draper Jr., developer of the residential community and sports center.

Other pros who will be competing for $15,000 in the tourney include Pancho Segura, Andres Gimeno, Mike Davies, Mal Anderson, Butch Buchholz, Barry MacKay and Luis Ayala. There will be two singles and a doubles match daily.

On Wednesday, May 26, the Independent-Journal is sponsoring a Tennis Day Exhibition Clinic to include the pros, from 4 to 5 p.m. The clinics will be held at Mill Valley, Tiburon, College of Marin, Albert Field in San Rafael, Peacock Gap, and Novato, so it should be convenient for all Marin's youngsters. The clinics will be free of charge.

Crampton Captures Top Prize

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A man must face up to his obligations to the game when the chips are down, Bruce Crampton mused as he sighted down the weary fairway toward hole No. 18 and "Crampton Lake" at Colonial Country Club.

Three years ago, Crampton lost the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament by sending his approach shot into that lake. That's why they named it for him.

"I thought about using an iron off the tee and just laying up to the hole so I wouldn't be taking any chances," said Crampton, a handsome 29-year-old Australian who has been a big winner on the American tour.

He could take a bogey and still bag the $100,000 Colonial crown because he had a three-stroke lead over George Knudson, a Canadian, going into the final hole.

"But then I thought this was not the way a champion should play. I'd say this was being chicken. I wanted to prove to myself that I could whip this hazard. So I played it a straightaway and won."

It was a dramatic story and finish for the big fellow from Australia who is known as the "Iron Man" of the American golf tour — he just doesn't miss a tournament if it can be avoided.

Crampton started the final round yesterday a stroke behind Kundson. But he proceeded to shoot a four-under-par 66, using only 29 putts, and his 276 for 72 holes equalled the second best in the 20-year history of the tournament.

It was four-under-par for the route, and the final round was played over soggy fairways and water traps.

Knudson managed a par 70 for 279 and second place and observed, "It wasn't that I lost the tournament — Crampton won it."

Crampton took down $20,000 for his victory and brought his total money-winnings to $25,670.17, $37,754.06 when unofficial cash is added, and jumped to third place among the money winners for the year.

The final round here was postponed for two days because of rain, and the players were permitted to improve the lie.

Gardner Dickinson had a 68 and tied Tony Lema, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Don January for third place at 280. Each won $5,100. Knudson picked up $11,500 for second.

Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, two of the elder statesmen of golf, finished fairly high. Hogan had 284 and tied for ninth, winning $2,233.34. Snead shot 286 and won $1,650.

Arnold Palmer, who won the Tournament of Champions last week, finished with 287 and took $1,300. Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, others of the big three, did not play here.

Defending champion Billy Casper of Peacock Gap Country Club found the 7,134-yard Colonial Country Club course tougher than last year and wound up with 288 and a tie for 22nd.

MAJOR LEAGUE ACTION

Houston Hurler Wins 6th, Astros Nip L.A.

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dave Giusti, an off-season school teacher, has moved to the head of the class.

As a pitcher, that is.

Giusti recorded his sixth victory without a defeat as Houston edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1 last night and joined Bob Gibson as the winningest pitchers in the major leagues. A couple of hours earlier Gibson reached the same level, 6-0, in St. Louis' 4-3 triumph over the New York Mets.

The rise of the 25-year old right-hander has been as meteoric as that of the Astros, who are in third place, two games behind first-place Los Angeles.

Prior to this season Giusti had managed a poor 2-3 record in 100 ninings of hurling for Houston in 1962 and 1964. His over-all record this season is the best in the majors.

While continuing his unbeaten streak, the former Syracuse University baseball and basketball star has compiled a 1.62 earned run average, completed three of four starts and has given up less than one walk per game.

That's an even better performance than Gibson, the hero of the 1964 World Series. The Cardinal ace has completed five of seven starts but has a 2.57 ERA and has averaged about four walks a game.

Giusti has been so good, in fact, he's surprised himself.

"I thought I would be optioned back to Oklahoma City this season," he said after befuddling the Dodgers. "The handwriting was on the wall. We were so sure of it we didn't order a telephone for our apartment."

Giusti and his wife can do a lot of talking now, though.

In other National League games, San Francisco blanked Chicago 3-0, Cincinnati bombed Philadelphia 9-1 and Pittsburgh nipped Milwaukee 4-3.

In the American, Minnesota edged Los Angeles 3-2, Baltimore trimmed Cleveland 3-2 in 11 innings, New York stopped Boston 5-3 and Detroit squeezed by Washington 7-6.

Giusti allowed the Dodgers only four hits while walking one and striking out six. Other than in the second inning when Los Angeles scored its lone run, the Dodgers had just two baserunners, Wes Parker on a third-inning single and John Kennedy on a walk in the fifth.

The Astro ace, who retired the last 14 Dodgers in succession, received all of the support he needed from Joe Gaines' two-run homer off Claude Osteen in the second inning.

The Mets got to Gibson for 10 hits, but the Cardinals beat them on an eighth-inning run. Dick Groat tripled and scored on Tim McCarver's ground out.

New Orleans Open Starts Tomorrow

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A $5,000 pro-am today precedes the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tourney and many of the professionals will be getting their first look this year at the plush 7,000-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

Australian Bruce Crampton, who won the Colonial Invitational title yesterday, and Arnold Palmer head the field which flew in here last night from Fort Worth, Tex. for the GNOO.

Crampton got permission from the PGA to skip the pro-am and that means he won't get in a practice round at Lakewood before the rich 72-hole tourney begins tomorrow.

A number of other golfers, including Jack Nicklaus, skipped the Colonial and have had a chance to tour the par 36-36—72 Lakewood layout.

Injured Boxer Remains In Critical Condition

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Lucien (Sonny) Banks remained in critical condition today at Presbyterian Hospital where he was operated on for a brain injury suffered in a fight.

Banks, 24, of Detroit, suffered a subdural hematoma Monday night when he was knocked out by Leotis Martin of Philadelphia in the ninth round of a 10-round feature bout.

A sub dural hematoma is a blood clot between the third level of the skull and the brain. It is caused by a hemorrhage from a severe concussion.

"We are not likely to see any abrupt change either way for a time. It's just a matter of waiting," said Allen Anderson, assistant director at Presbyerian.

Martin, 24, visited the unconscious Banks yesterday. He said he had been "praying all day" for the injured fighter. Martin kayoed Banks with a short right to the temple. As Banks fell he hit his head on the floor of the ring.

Banks regained consciousness shortly after the fight, but then weakened and was taken to the hospital. He was operated on early yesterday morning when his condition deteriorated.

Giants Sell Hiller To New York Mets

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Everything seems to happen to the New York Mets. No sooner had they cut down to the 25-player limit in the major leagues, than their All-Star second baseman, Ron Hunt, is hurt and they make a midnight purchase of Chuck Hiller from San Francisco to fill the gap.

It happened like this. Hunt collided with a St. Louis Cardinal baserunner in the fifth inning of the game last night at Shea Stadium. He suffered a separation in his left shoulder that probably will keep him out for the season.

The Mets put Hunt on the disabled list, cutting the roster below the 25-player limit which is mandatory for all clubs in the National and American Leagues until Sept. 1.

Earlier, they had sold pitcher Carl Willey to Buffalo of the International League and made Yogi Berra a coach only by taking him off the active list.

Met officials promptly got on the phone and landed Hiller from the Giants in a straight cash transaction early today. Hiller gained fame with his grand slam homer in the 1962 World Series against the New York Yankees.

The Mets thus supplied the only excitement of the night-before the cutdown midnight deadline.

Most of the other clubs optioned rookies, although the Pittsburgh Pirates got down by putting veteran relief pitcher Roy Face on the disabled list. Face suffered a torn cartilage in his right knee while running in the outfield several days ago.

J.V. Baseball

Marin Catholic High School won a junior varsity baseball game over Redwood yesterday, 2-1, in eight innings. Greg Creighton gave up four hits and struck out 10, without giving up a walk to earn the win. George Foster had 2 hits and scored the winning run.

Mrs. Hellman Wins Playoff

Mrs. Roland Hellman won the playoff in trophy day action yesterday at the Peacock Gap Country Club. Winners were:

Class A — Mrs. Roland Hellman, 101-29—72; Mrs. Relle Barbelaben, 106-27—79; Mrs. Elmer Martin, 100-21—79; Mrs. Arthur Sauter, 109-33—76.

Terra Linda Picks New Grid Mentor

BRADLEY SQUIRES
New head coach

History teacher Bradley Squires, a veteran of more than 15 seasons of high school coaching, mostly as an assistant, was named yesterday to replace Pete Limm as head football coach at Terra Linda High School.

Limm has resigned to accept an assistant coaching post at College of Marin.

Squires steps into the head coaching job after a two-year stint as assistant coaoch under Limm. The new Terra Linda mentor began his grid career as a halfback at Illinois State College (1938-40) and served his coaching apprenticeship as an assistant at Teachers College High School in Charleston, Ill.,

He was in the Air Force during World War II for four years, after which he completed work for a master's degree at the University of Illinois in 1946. He resumed his coaching activity at Roxana (Illinois) High School.

Appointed head grid coach of the Cerro Gordo (Illinois) High School in 1948, Squires, after six years there, moved with his family to California. He was assiistant grid coach at Elk Grove High School for six years.

After that, he served one year, also as an assistant coach, at San Rafael High (1960-61) before joining the Terra Linda staff.

Squires, who currently teaches U.S. history, American government and contemporary history at Terra Linda, will continue his regular assignment in the high school's history department next year, in addition to his coaching chores. The new head coach lives in Petaluma with his wife and three children.

DICK ESTELLE FASHIONS A NO-HIT WIN

The Pacific Coast League's first no-hitter of the year has been registered by Dick Estelle of Tacoma, San Francisco Giant farm club.

The hard-throwing lefty faced just 28 Hawaii Islanders last night and walked one and retired the other 27. Gil Garrido's two-run double and Bob Burda's homer with a man on led the winners' attack.

Tacoma leads the Western Division by two full games and pitching is the reason. Bill Hands, who blanked the Islanders Monday, is 5-0 with three shutouts and Bob Garibaldi is 3-0. Now Estelle gives the Giants another hot-shot starter.

Trojans, Beckley Top Tam

Reeling off four double plays behind the three-hit pitching of righthander Ed Beckley, the Terra Linda Trojans snapped out of a two-game losing streak yesterday with an easy 8-0 victory over the Tamalpais Indians.

The Marin Athletic League game was played at Albert Field in San Rafael and kept the Trojans (6-2) one game behind Redwood (7-1) in the title race. It also marked Tam's seventh straight loss after a season-opener win.

While Beckley was mowing down Indians on only three singles while striking out seven and walking two for his second shutout and third win of the season, his mates exploded for seven runs in the third inning to decide the issue. Beckley started the eruption with a single, Dan Herrera singled, Craig Hill drove them both across with a one-bagger, John Clifford walked, an error loaded the bags, Fred Daniele singled home two more and Ken Pike followed with another single for another RBI.

On defense Terra Linda executed four twin killings, with Sid Norman to Hill to Dan Herrera accounting for two and Hill to Terrera to Norman to catcher Don Knotts and Hill to Paul Lee the others.

Marin Cats Bow To Redwood, 9-2

Romping to their sixth straight league victory, the Redwood Giants blasted Marin Catholic 9-2 yesterday to retain their one-game lead over Terra Linda in the Marin Athletic League baseball race.

The Giants stole five bases and got some timely hitting from Tom Gootherts who drove across three tallies with two singles, Kevin Wilson who doubled across a pair of runs and Steve LeBeck who had two RBI with a single. First sacker Jack Baglietto had the other RBI for the Giants.

For the first time in league play Coach Al Endriss used more than one pitcher. Starter Jim Garrett was nicked for both Marin Catholic runs in the third inning on hits by Vin Sherry and George King. Scott Murphy came on in relief to shut out the Wildcats through the sixth inning and Ed Hutchison pitched the seventh frame.

It was only the third time in eight league games Redwood pitching has yielded more than one run in a game. The seven Giant victories have been 4-2 and 9-2 over Marin Catholic, 5-2 over Tamalpais, 6-1 over San Rafael, 3-1 over Drake, 1-0 over Novato and 2-1 over Terra Linda. Their lone loss was a 1-0 decision to Terra Linda.

Battement Wins GGF Feature

ALBANY (AP) — Battement survived a claim of foul in posting an upset yesterday afternoon in the featured Vallejo Day purse at Golden Gate Fields.

The three-year old daughter of Prince Khaled closed strong and defeated Sonny's Love by two lengths in the six furlong filly test.

Danny Sanchez, who rode Sonny's Love, lodged a claim of foul. Battement drifted in the final stages but the stewards, after viewing films of the race, upheld her victory.

Dedicated A., finished third.

Battement, timed in a good 1:10 1-5, paid $14.60, $5 and $2.40. Sonny's Love paid $4 and $2.20 and Dedicated A. paid $2.20.

Bunt Hurls Bucs Past San Rafael

Roy Bunt's five-hit pitching backed by some powerful hitting of shortstop Tony Glodnis, left fielder Tim Manahan and first baseman Will Curley powered the Drake Pirates to an 8-0 victory over San Rafael yesterday at Drake.

It was the Pirates' third straight Marin Athletic League victory and their second straight shutout as they lifted their league record to 5-3, still two games behind front-running Redwood (7-1) with four games left to play.

Bunt's major accomplishment yesterday was holding San Rafael's top hitters, Ken Lampert and Rocky Shone, hitless in a total of six at-bats. Lampert was the league's leading batsman with a .478 average and Shone was third at .391, but each went 0 for 3 yesterday.

Glodnis, recently promoted from the junior varsity, crashed a two-run homer in the fourth inning; Manahan contributed a triple and Curley a double as the Pirate batters showed some muscle. Curley also had a single and two runs-batted-in while catcher Al Simontacchi had two singles in Drake's nine-hit assault.

Reservoir Trout Fishing Is A Good Way To Learn

By EDWIN S. CAPPS
Capitol News Service

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — We made the rounds at a couple of the newer reservoirs for the trout season opening and were amazed all over again at seeing thousands of people fishing where, but a few years ago, there were just some barren hills.

Our first stop was Prosser Creek Reservoir, a couple of miles north of Truckee. To say the least, the weatherman hadn't cooperated. The wind was blowing out of the southwest at about a 25 m.p.h. clip.

But the cars were there by the hundreds—most of them pickups, campers. About half had their own boats but it really wasn't a day for boats.

Fishing at Prosser was spotty, probably because of the cold weather and cold water, but will pick up as the season advances.

One of the noticeable things in this reservoir-type fishing is the high percentage of youngsters in the parties. This is a bank fisherman's bait-fishing paradise and the kids usually can catch about as many trout as their elders. Stream fishing aften is too tricky for the beginners and the reservoirs provide a good place to make a start.

After a look at Prosser, we drove up the Sierra Valley to Frenchman Dam and Reservoir and again it looked like a convention. This was one of the hotter spots in the north state for trouting on the opener, although it never will be as great a day as the original opener at Frenchman in 1963.

A year ago, there had been snow on the ground and an icy wind blowing but there still were some 4,000 persons at Frenchman one time or another during the weekend. There was no snow this year, except patches, but the icy wind was there.

We recall, after that 1963 opening when the 14-inch fat rainbows were being dragged out of Frenchman by the basketful, that we asked Alex Calhoun, chief of inland fisheries, how long it could last. He admitted it couldn't stay that red hot very long and soon would boil down to how many fish the lake could produce, with annual plantings of fingerlings.

New reservoirs produce phenomenal growth for a year or two because of all the feed in the water, then tail off considerably. However, they often come back strong after a few years, as regular populations of fish are established.

Frenchman, like some other reservoirs, has changed somewhat from a bank fishing operation—although there's still plenty of it—to trolling. The rainbows go for Ford fenders or other flashers trolled.

We couldn't help but wonder, watching all the cars go by at Frenchman, how much these fishermen and their families were doing for business in the area. It's an easy drive from Sacramento or Reno, and not too long a run from the Bay Area.

Thus most of the anglers brought lunches and all of their gear so there wasn't really much necessity to spend any money in the area.

A Huge Exempt List For U. S. Open Golf

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Of the 305 golfers entered in the 1965 U.S. Open Championship, 31 will be exempt from all qualifying and 41 others will be exempt from the first qualifying round, the U.S. Golf Association said today.

The two stages of qualifying, each a 36 holes, will produce 119 qualifiers for the championship at the Bellerive Country Club, St. Louis. Local qualifying is scheduled at 58 locations May 24-25.

About 20 per cent of the players in the local rounds will be joined by 41 exempt players in the sectional qualifying rounds at 13 locations June 7-8. The starting field at Bellerive will be limited to 150.

The 31 players exempt from all qualifying include the U.S. Open champions of the past five years — Ken Venturi, Jack Nicklaus, Gene Littler, Julius Boros and Arnold Palmer; U.S. amateur champion Bill Campbell, PGA champion Bobby Nichols and British Open champion Tony Lema.

Exempted becuase they were among the top 15 finishers in the 1964 Open are Bob Charles of New Zealand, Bruce Crampton of Australia, Tommy Jacobs, Billy Casper, Gay Brewer Jr., Bill Collins, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Rosburg, Johnny Pott, George Bayer, Don January, Terry Dill, Ed Furgol, Al Geiberger and Raymond Floyd.

The final exemptions given to players who were among the top 15 PGA money winners for one year prior to the May 5 deadline for entering the Open went to Gary Player of South Africa, Bruce Devlin of Australia, Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez of Puerto Rico, Doug Sanders, Frank Bears, Jack McGowan, Mason Rudolph and Mike Souchak.

Exemptions from local qualifying are given on a similar but broader basis. The players exempted include former Open champions Tommy Bolt, Cary Middlecoff, Lew Worsham and Tony Manero, former British Open champions Sam Snead, Kel Nagle and Denny Shute and former amateur champion Deane Beman.

HOVERCRAFT OVERTURNS IN BAY

The $300,000 Hovercraft being tested by the San Franicsco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines in San Francisco Bay capsized yesterday with four men aboard during tests under adverse conditions. The four were rescued without injuries and the craft was towed to Alameda Naval Air Station where Navy personnel and shipyard workers righted it. John Cunningham, SFO official aboard the hovercraft (white shirt at right), said they were making a right turn at 60 MPH when they overturned. "We won't be doing maneuvers like that on any commercial trips," he said. (UPI Telephoto)

DEATH PENALTY BAN PLAN KILLED

For Fifth Time In Seven Years Brown Is Defeated In Attempt At Abolition

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today closed the book for this year on a project near to his heart—abolition of the death penalty.

For the fifth time in seven years, the California Legislature last night refused to shut down the San Quentin gas chamber where 53 men now wait for execution.

This time, defeat came in the Assembly Criminal Procedures committee members turned commi tee members turned down the bill to end executions in California.

They also rejected a measure that would have submitted the issue to the people in 1966 — a proposed constitutional amendment that Brown had indicated he would support.

A Republican, Assemblyman George Deukmejian of Long Beach, urged approval of the amendment sponsored by Assemblyman Burt Henson, D - Ventura.

But Democrats, perhaps unwilling to have Brown run for re-election in 1966 on a ballot containing a death penalty measure, voted no.

The governor backed up his stand with testimony from San Francisco defense attorney Melvin Belli, mystery writer Earle Stanley Gardner and the Rt. Rev. Clarence R. Haden Jr., bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern California.

Fighting hard for the bill was the author, Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan, D-Los Angeles, a longtime foe of the death penalty.

Looking directly a committee member E. Richard Barnes, R-San Diego, a retired Navy Methodist chaplain, McMillan said he was glad to see a minister on the committee.

"I know that if Jesus Christ were sitting here tonight on this committee, I know how he would vote on this bill."

Belli called the death penalty a "barbaric ritual we go through with all the trappings of old Bedlam or old middle - aged England. We give the man the last meal. We march him up there."

Brown, in a statement read by assistant Frank Mesple, called on law makers "to abolish this act of retribution, just as we earlier ended use of the whip, public hangings and other ineffective punishments."

Marincello Plan Will Get Airing

Public discussion of pros and cons of the proposed City of Marincello will be held at a meeting sponsored by the San Anselmo Homes Assn., May 27 at 8 p.m. in Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo.

Mrs. John F. West, vice president of the homeowner group, said that at a recent discussion of the planned community development, "both the 'pros' and the 'antis' reached the simultaneous conclusion that we needed more information." Representatives of Frouge Corp. and of opposition groups will speak.

Senate Map Is Still Not 1 Man, 1 Vote

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Under the Senate reapportionment plan passed "reluctantly" by the State Senate Monday, the variance in size (by population) would range from a low of 197,000 to a high of 516,000.

Under the one-man, one-vote ruling, each Senate district should have a population of 393,000.

Marin, Napa and Solano, lumped together as one Senate district, would have a population of 347,000.

What caused Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy to scream was that Napa and Solano are not connected to Marin by land. Traditionally and logically, Marin and Sonoma should go together, McCarthy contends.

The smallest in population would be District 1 (14 mountain counties from Modoc to Inyo) with a population of 197,000.

The largest in population would be San Diego County, which would have 516,000 for one senator.

Los Angeles County would get 12 Senate seats. Five other counties would get two senators each: San Francisco, Alameda, Santa Clara, Orange and San Diego.

Garden Club Talk

Ralph Hillary of Oakland will speak on succulents at a meeting of the Redwood Shade Garden Club at 8 p.m. Friday in Whittaker Hall of St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere. The club will have its annual pot luck dinner before the meeting.

Cranston Offers Own Plan For Appraisers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Controller Alan Cranston today offered to give up his sole power to appoint inheritance tax appraisers and proposed limits be placed on their terms of office and incomes.

He also recommended qualifications for the appraisers be written into the law, requiring them to have experience as attorneys, realtors, appraisers, accountants or trust or loan officers.

Cranston combined his proposals with a stinging attack on a pending Assembly bill to strip him of his power to appoint the appraisers, who value the estates of dead Californians for tax purposes.

"I cannot stand back any longer and watch a politically inspired effort to wreck a basically sound, efficient and economical system which provides protection and equity for widows, orphans and creditors alike," he said of the bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley, whose bill would turn estate appraising over to the State Board of Equalization, replied that "the changes he now recommends . . . are but a facade to maintain the present political patronage system."

Bagley's bill is pending before the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Cranston, who called himself the first controller in history to propose a major overhaul of the system, said he proposed the reforms after six months of study because the "legislation pending in the Assembly would create grief for all heirs, choke the probate courts with chaos and result in bigger tax bills."

He proposed:

Elimination of the controller's power to hire or fire appraisers at will. Instead, they would be nominated by the controller and confirmed by a local probate court.

Elimination of appraisers' fees on cash and bank accounts in estates and a $100 limit on their fees for appraising a listed stock. Now, appraisers get a fee based on a percentage of the estate they are valuing.

Establishment of qualifications for appraisers. Cranston said they would be based mainly on a requirement of five years experience as an attorney, real estate broker, public accountant or trust or loan officer.

Four-year staggered terms of office.

Peanut Intrigue Adds To Far East Dinners

Peanuts help the twain to meet 'twixt East and West. (Who said they never would?) Americans have added such things as Nabe dinners cooked on the Hokotsu, Chapatti and a variety of Hibachi fare to the more prosaic Chop Suey, Chow Mein and Kabobs.

THESE MAIN DISHES around which you can, without too much fuss, create choice gourmet dinners, have been adapted from the mysterious lands of silken veils and tinkling temple bells by National Peanut Council. Traditionally, each dinner must be served with rice and seven "sambals" or accompaniments. Take your choice: chopped salted peanuts (always), raisins, kumquats, chutney, sieved hard-cooked eggs, chopped crisp bacon, chopped pickles or green peppers, minced onion mixed with crushed garlic or chopped chives, flaked coconut, slivers of preserved ginger. If you wish a dessert, serve an ambrosia of coconut and mandarin oranges or a tray laden with an array of fresh fruit. Darjeeling or Jasmine tea, or tiny cups of thick coffee, are appropriate hot beverages.

CANTONESE CHICKEN

- 3 chicken breasts
- 4 tablespoons flour (divided)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons peanut oil
- 3 tablespoons brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup cider vinegar
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ cup chicken broth
- 13½ ounce can pineapple tidbits
- 1 green pepper, cut into thin strips
- ⅓ cup thinly sliced onion
- ¼ cup chopped salted peanuts

Have butcher cut breast meat off bones. Cut into strips about ¼-inch wide. Cover bones with water and simmer to make broth while preparing rest of recipe. Put strips of raw chicken into paper bag with mixture of 2 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper. Shake until well coated. Heat oil in large skillet. Add chicken. Cover and cook until all red color is gone. Stir now and then. Mix sugar, remaining 2 tablespoons flour, salt, vinegar and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over chicken. Add brotth, tidbits and their juice. Cook 15 minutes. Add green pepper, onion and peanuts. Cook 5 minutes more—no longer. The pepper and onions should be slightly crunchy. Serve over rice or Chinese noodles. Makes 4 servings.

CHUTNEY MEAT BALLS

- 1 pound ground beef
- ⅔ cup evaporated milk
- ½ cup fine soda cracker crumbs or rolled oats
- ¼ cup chopped salted peanuts

- ¼ cup peanut oil
- 1 medium onion, thinly sliced
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 3 tablespoons flour

- 2 cups bouillon

Combine first 8 ingredients for meat balls. Shape into 36 meat balls. Brown in hot oil. Shake skillet occasionally to prevent from sticking. Take meat balls from skillet and drain drippings. Put 2 tablespoons drippings back into skillet. Cook onion and garlic until golden. Stir in flour and curry powder until bubbly. Stir in bouillon and cook until thickened. Add meat balls and simmer 20 to 30 minutes. Serve over rice, 6 meat balls to a serving. Sprinkle with an assortment of sambals. . .Far East accompaniments such as chopped salted peanuts, raisins, chopped pickles or green peppers.

BOMBAY DINNER

- 2 medium onions, cut up
- 1 green pepper, cut up
- 2 tablespoons peanut oil
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 tablespoon curry powder

Add raisins, peas and peanuts. Simmer 5 minutes. Blend cornstarch and 3 tablespoons water. Stir into mixture. Continue to stir over medium heat until thickened. Add pimiento. Serve over cooked rice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Bolinas Fire Budget To Rise $1,000

Fiscal 1966 budget for Bolinas Fire Protection District will rise almost $1,000 over the current year's budget of $7,974, but the tax rate, now 12 cents per $100 assessed valuation, is expected to drop about five cents.

Reason for the drop, said commission chairman James Dougan, is reappraisals.

Commissioners have decided to spend $1,200 for two and one-half inch hose, about $1,000 for new fire hydrants and $100 for fire prevention. Public hearing on the budget is scheduled June 14.

Cleanup day was set for June 16, starting at 8 a.m., said Dougan. The system will be changed this year and only community center, fire trails and hydrants, will be cleaned. There will be a pot luck luncheon at the center for firemen and their families.

Sausalito Police Sgt. Howard Goerndt caught a Mill Valley man allegedly attempting to remove a wheel from a parked car at S. J. Sturiale Fish Co. in Sausalito Monday.

John Andrew Whitman, 18, of 409 Throckmorton Avenue, was placed in county jail on a charge of tampering with a vehicle.

Goerndt, patrolling the Marinship area at 1:25 a.m., said he saw Whitman and the car with one wheel off. Whitman told Goerndt he was in Marinship looking for a job. The car is owned by Sturiale's son, Joseph, of Sausalito.

Police Face Hard Decision On When To Use Pistols

We expect much from our law enforcement officers.

On occasion, we expect him to shoot on sight without the slightest hesitation; other times we expect him to withhold his fire in the face of abuse and provocation.

And in most cases, the officer has just a split-second in which to make that decision.

Fortunately in Marin, the split-second decisions of our law enforcement officers under fire have been remarkably discreet, with rare exceptions.

In instances where our officers have resorted to gunplay, their acts have usually been justified, though some may have bordered on the questionable.

Last week's shooting of a youth by a San Rafael police officer after a high speed chase prompts us to take another look at this question of when the use of firearms is justified.

We do not pretend to know all the details in the latest episode between the San Rafael officer and the young man, who was running from the scene after wrecking a car. We make no prejudgments on this particular incident.

However, as a general policy of all Marin law enforcement officers, we would hope that gunplay will be kept to an absolute minimum.

As we view it, the only complete justification for use of firearms is when the life of the officer or of another person is in immediate danger.

Under any circumstances, compelling evidence would be needed to justify the use of a bullet to stop or "wing" another human being.

We do not envy the officer who must decide in a split-second whether or not his life or that of another is in danger. But that is one of the responsibilities that go with the occupation.

When the suspect is pointing a gun, or is holding a knfie and advancing on another in a hostile manner, he must be stopped, with a bullet if necessary.

But when no weapon is involved, and the suspect is retreating, not attacking, we would prefer to see the law err in the direction of leniency.

We feel that it would be preferable to have innumerable car thieves or traffic violators evade immediate apprehension than to have one minor violator shot on the spot.

We hate to see the law or the citizens become so calloused as to condone the use of bullets on grounds that it was meant "only to wing, not to kill" the suspect.

A skilled surgeon, working directly over his patient, must be careful with his scalpel lest he damage an adjoining artery or organ.

You can't expect even a Wyatt Earp, shooting a moving target at 50 paces, to be able to guarantee that the target will be winged but not seriously hurt. Any shot fired, even if aimed at the legs or arms, must be considered a potential killer.

In the absence of a clear threat to his own life or the life of others, we feel a police officer must exercise extreme caution before he appoints himself the executioner of another human being.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

U.S. Moves To Avert Dominican Reds' Planned 'Liberation War'

(While Roscoe Drummond is en route to Africa, his column will be written by guest writers.)

By TOM LAMBERT

WASHINGTON—It is impossible, of course, to make even any tentative appraisal of the current crisis in the Dominican Republic by considering only one aspect of it. Too many factors are involved.

TO NAME only a few, there is the republic's political-mental as well as physical imprisonment during Trujillo's 32 years of dictatorship, the eight changes of government during the island's last four turbulent years, President Lyndon B. Johnson's assignment of Marines and paratroopers there, and the official emphasis here, finally, on the ideological complexion of the crisis.

But it seems valid now, with the crisis still developing, to draw one conclusion: The United States has attempted in the Dominican Republic the military prevention of a potential Communist-inspired "liberation war," instead of facing the probability of trying to cure one after it got under way.

IN VIET NAM, the United States is trying to cure a "liberation war." In the Dominican Republic, it has taken military action as a hopeful prelude to political developments designed to prevent such a war.

"Liberation wars" are not new with Communists. Lenin suggested repeatedly that they be employed. Mao Tse-tung began waging his "liberation war" in China even before starting his historic "Long March" in the '30s.

In retrospect, therefore, it seems astonishing the United States paid so little attention formally and in its policy councils to such wars before Nikita S. Khrushchev publicized them so menacingly in January, 1961.

IT IS NOTABLE, also, that one of this country's first reactions to Mr. Khrushchev's "liberation war" speech was to launch programs emphasizing "counter-insurgency" — obviously keyed more to curing than preventing such conflicts.

The United States, of course, had long been backing and supporting programs aimed primarily at preventing "liberation wars" but without formally linking those programs with the latter term.

ONE OF THE KEY elements in some thinking on "liberation wars" hinges on a question: At which point in a Communist program to launch such a war does it graduate from a prevention to a cure problem?

Adolf Hitler started out in Munich in the '20s with a handful of disciples on the path that led to World War II, one policy-maker recalled recently. The world, he continued, missed the point at which it might have prevented Hitler's seizure of power, and then had to go to war to cure that mistake.

In essence, the United States moved troops into the Dominican Republic to try to prevent a take-over by Communists who allegedly had captured a popular revolt. The official deduction here seems to have been that such a threatened take-over might be prevented, but could not be cured if it came off.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

'Forthright Fascist' Label Held Preferred

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Amen to Mr. Harold Heller's letter published May 1, 1965 in the I-J, re: Viet Nam and the "lie" inherent in U. S. policy toward that country. To quote Mr. Heller's central question with appropriate substitution and bring history up to date, ". . . wherefore do we appoint ourselves the saviours of the Dominican Republic?"

Republic? It seems that we should start calling this country the Dominican Protectorate, or Dominican Possession, or how about Dominican Colony (U.S.). Should we not relabel our possessions to be consistent with our imperialist policies? This would remove a great part of our "lie" and would be a great one-upmanship play in our deadly monopoly game with Russia.

The rest of the unattached (so far) properties in the world would at least have renewed respect for our honesty, if not respect for our decadent behavior.

Although it's not much of a choice, I'd rather go down in history as a forthright Fascist, a gullible and guileless Goldwaterite, or an ingenious Democrat, a gelatinous Johnsonian, or a lying liberal.

Elderly Need Rides, Too

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In this "Consider the Elderly" month, may I use this method to thank whoever was kind enough to send me complimentary tickets to the Youth Concert.

Unfortunately at 60, the walk from San Rafael bus depot to Dominican College was too much for me. . . .

It would be nice if people would include the elderly in their church, concert, lecture, play and adult education attendances by offering them a ride to and from the bus. . . .

Since reading and writing are my grand passion in my sunset years, I do not care to go out very often, but I would attend an adult education course one night a week and a concert and lecture a few times a month, if there was a way of getting there and not having to walk the dark streets at night alone.

I am sure there are many other seniors who feel the same way. Many of us have had accidents, and have to use a cane, and feel insecure on steps, and in crowds, unless there is some kind person who can lend a helping hand. . . .

Reader Critical Of Shooting At Youth

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This letter is in regard to the shooting of Timothy Ferranti by police sergeant James Carlton, reported in the Independent-Journal dated May 5, 1965.

Ferranti violated the law in stealing a car, committing misdemeanor traffic violations and violating the sergeant's orders. It is questionable whether the above violations warranted the shooting of Ferranti. The boy did not assault the policeman or anyone else in this case, and in my opinion, could have been apprehended without any shooting.

It is the duty of the police to suppress and apprehend a law violator, but this action by Carlton is not proper care in the use of firearms and is not the action expected by me of a prudent man under similar circumstances.

Ferranti could have easily been shot to death, executed, by this policeman instead of just injured.

As quoted by Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa, "The officer's intention was only to wing the youth, and that's what he did." Certainly those of us familiar with firearms know that a shot at a moving target at 45 yards is a dangerous shot.

From the reports I have read, Carlton shouted at the youth to stop. However he felled the youth with just one shot, indicating that Carlton didn't fire any warning shots. One would think he was in pursuit of an armed killer . . .

San Rafael

Military Academy Article Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Thank you for the excellent story on San Rafael Military Academy which appeared in last Saturday's (April 24) Marin Magazine. Mrs. Donnelly's article and the extensive use of both historical and current pictures make a very real contribution to the Academy's 75th Anniversary.

There are one or two points of fairly recent history which should be clarified. The group of dedicated parents who took control of the destinies of the Academy on Nov. 1, 1945, was headed by Mr. Henry E. Picard, now of 6 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield. . . . He was ably assisted in this work by Mr. Raymond Flood, Mr. Paul Ciampi (who succeeded Mr. Picard as president), Mr. Don Corey, Mr. Alvin Schultz, Cmdr. Roy A. Ibach, Col. George H. Steel, Mr. Albert G. Evans and Mr. Harry D. Grant.

It was substantially this same group, supplemented by other members who constituted the Board of Directors who, in 1959, gave the physical assets as well as the direction of the Academy to the then Protestant Episcopal Bishop of California, Karl Morgan Block. I believe that the record should be corrected on this important point. . . . The school properties were not sold but were given to the Bishop with the understanding that he would, through his office and influence, continue the school as a military academy and institution of learning. . . .

They considered more than one "permanent institution" before offering the school to Bishop Block. Theirs was truly a gift of magnificent proportions, made out of deep concern for the school and its future. . . .

Marin Needs No Sea Of Roofs

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Marincello will permit almost 90 per cent of the land to be uncovered, allowing much more green and recreational facilities than in most areas of Marin.

If Marin must grow (and I don't see how we can prevent it), I'm for greater density and more open space, rather than a continuation of the "sea" of roofs which have begun to cover the County.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

State Senate Redistricting Plan Faces Tough Going In Assembly

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California State Senate apparently will accomplish what many thought would be impossible this year — securing approval of a bill to set up new Senate districts and shift the control to the Southern counties.

The measure by Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point, has been amended to set up 12 Senate districts in Los Angeles County, rather than to have the 12 senators run on an at-large basis. The bill also was changed to move Madera County into a district with Merced and Stanislaus counties. Madera had been in a 14-county mountain district.

THE FACT THAT the Teale bill now has the majority support in the Senate doesn't mean that all the senators are happy, including the ones who voted for it. No one can be happy about legislating himself out of a job and this is just what is happening to quite a number of Northern senators.

But there is every indication that, when the Teale bill is considered by the State Assembly, it will be unacceptable in its present form. The big sticker, as might be expected, is Los Angeles County.

Under the bill, five other counties—San Diego, Orange, Santa Clara, San Francisco and Alameda—would have two senators each. So far, these counties would have the two senators running at large, rather than by district.

THE LOS ANGELES districts were drawn up by Sen. Thomas M. Rees, D-Los Angeles, after considerable study. Rees said the amendments attempt to set up districts along community interest lines, with most cities remaining intact within districts. Rees said he thought this was preferable to a political drawing of the lines.

But Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, said he hasn't found a single assemblyman that likes the way Rees has drawn the districts. This is not too difficult to understand because most of the assemblymen from Los Angeles County would be happy to run for the Senate and would like districts drawn up so as to favor their personal candidacy.

Rees, who said he has attempted to cooperate in every way with the members of the Assembly and has made all of his working material available to them during the time he was preparing the district boundaries, is not too happy. He said it is very easy to sit back and criticize — much easier than taking the bull by the horns and actually drawing districts.

REES, WHO SERVED in the Assembly for quite a few years before being elected to the Senate, recalled that he had participated in two Assembly reapportionment actions. The lower house, under law, must draw new district boundaries along population lines each 10 years.

Rees said the tradition in the Legislature was that a reapportionment bill was a one - house bill. In other words, after the Assembly had wrestled with its collective conscience, membership and others, it came out with a reapportionment bill. This bill then was accepted by the Senate with few, if any, attempts to change the Assembly version.

The senator said he hopes this tradition will be followed this year—that the Assembly will not try to upset his districts in Los Angeles County. But Rees knows this is whistling in the dark.

Unruh said, in fact, that the tradition is more in Rees' mind than a matter of practicality. And Unruh skirted the issue a bit by saying there was no tradition about handling of a Senate reapportionment bill because there had never been one before.

THUS, OBSERVERS are looking for a lively inter-house battle on the Teale bill before it is adopted finally. Senators are hoping that, if the bill is not approved, a federal court might use it in setting the district lines, if that becomes necessary.

More Latin American Pro-Red Strife Seen

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Congressional leaders are being warned that the "May Day" distress signal could be sounded at any moment in Guatemala, Haiti and South Korea.

In a series of backstage White House briefings, President Lyndon B. Johnson and his military - intelligence advisers are alerting the legislators to possible Communist-instigated revolts or uprisings.

THEY BLUNTLY warn that Communist groups armed by Moscow, Peking, Havana and Algeria will soon have the capability of igniting open rebellions or guerrilla wars in a dozen other Latin American, African and Asian nations.

According to their foreboding reports, the greatest danger period is between May 17 and July 4—when the Soviet-supported Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops are expected to mount a series of major military actions in South Viet Nam.

South Korean authorities already have uncovered two Red plots in Seoul to incite a rebellion among opposition groups there during President Park's state visit to the U. S. at the end of this month.

In Guatemala and Haiti, increasing numbers of local Communists trained in Havana are returning with large clandestine shipments of Russian-made weapons from Castro's bulging arsenal.

THEY CONTEND that only drum-tight U. S. naval blockade of Cuba, center of this subversion, could choke off this growing threat to their security. So far, U. S. officials have evinced no signs of wanting to take this drastic action against Castro.

While bipartisan congressional leaders publicly are strongly supporting President Johnson's military moves in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, they are beginning to express private concern that his policy-makers may be undercutting his forceful action with their diplomatic maneuvering.

As voiced by one lawmaker at a meeting in the Capitol, their anxiety stems from the failure of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his aides to use U. S. influence to rally backing behind the strongest anti-Communist leaders in the Dominican Republic and South Viet Nam.

"Instead of getting behind and building up pro-U. S. and anti-Communist leaders like General Wessin y Wessin in the Dominican Republic," declared the legislator, "Secretary Rusk, Undersecretary Thomas Mann and McGeorge Bundy (chief foreign policy adviser in the White House) are busy trying to set up a 'third force' government in these countries, which would be neutral rather than pro-U. S."

All efforts by the lawmakers to learn whom the U. S. is supporting in the Dominican Republic are greeted with the general statement that the policy is one of "self-determination for the Dominican people."

WHEN THE NAME of General Wessin y Wessin (head of the anti-rebel armed forces) is raised, the congressional leaders are immediately told that U. S. support of him has been ruled out on the ground he is a military man.

No further explanation is given, despite the fact that President Johnson has twice hailed the general for courage and devotion to his country.

General Wessin, a colonel during the regime of former President Juan Bosch, played a major role in Bosch's bloodless ouster. With a group of other military leaders, he forced Bosch to leave the Dominican Republic when he began placing known Communists in top government jobs.

One of the congressional leaders who believes President Johnson should back General Wessin is Speaker John McCormack, dedicated anti-Communist. He is opposed to any move to restore to power Bosch or any of his close friends.

The Tourist Season Is Upon Us, And Sausalito, Tiburon Feel It

THE TOURIST season is upon us.

I live in Sausalito and work in Tiburon, Marin's two tourist cities.

On weekends in both cities, the streets are filled with wandering tourists, looking at the other tourists and trying to figure out who lives there.

In Sausalito the weekend beatniks and a new trend, the motorcycle mob, comes to town to be seen. It is rare to see a real live Sausalito beatnik, or any other species or resident, on a weekend in the downtown area.

TIBURON IS a little fancier, the crowd a little better dressed, the idea is the same.

The cities differ somewhat in that Sausalito residents shop in their city. I buy my pastry at the local bakery, my clothes at the local second-hand shops, drop in at the local bar, go out to a local restaurant, to the dime store, the art goods store, book store.

Tiburon residents, and their neighbors in Belvedere, seem to use Tiburon shops much less, with the exception of the big food stores, lined up one next door to another, and the gas stations, lined up one next door to another.

SAUSALITO ALSO has this scab of gas stations but is blessed with only one sign-ridden large food market.

Residents of each town are alike in that each sneers at the other's commercial tourist center as "honky tonk."

At a Tiburon Chamber of Commerce meeting the chamber president asked if other merchants were bothered by the loud music being played on weekends onto Main Street, the city's "quaint" tourist center.

There was a moment of dead silence.

"Nobody in Tiburon goes downtown on weekends," piped up one member, to the sound of reverberating laughter which intensified the comment.

AT A CITY council meeting, Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, commenting on the same situation, said:

"I don't go downtown in Tiburon on weekends."

Residents of both cities keep to the confines of their homes, or Tiburon residents go to Sausalito, while Sausalito residents head for Tiburon.

At the same time the Redwood Empire Assn. is sponsoring a publicity campaign, thinking of spending $50,000 to tell people to come to their empire, which includes Marin.

AND THE MAY in Marin campaign is in full swing, a project equaled in fatuousness only by the "Miss Marin" contests — and probably equally successful, luckily, in bringing outsiders to Marin.

Sausalito's traffic problems are all centered on tourists, and how to get them in and out of town on weekends. The sound of silver clinking into parking meters and parking lot attendants' hands means that 13 per cent of the city's civic outlay will be paid for by fines and parking fees.

Parking in Tiburon is not quite as tight nor as expensive and the long road into the city is only moderately filled with cars on weekends — but they ain't seen nuthin' yet.

IF THE "QUAINT" Main Street establishments continue to proliferate, and more tourists are attracted, the road down the peninsula will be bumper to exhaust pipe with cars.

One planner recently referred to the "Sausalito rule" in road building, under which a road, such as Sausalito's entryway from San Francisco, is purposely not widened though filled to overflowing with cars. If it were widened, there would be more cars to again overfill the lanes, in a seemingly endless progression.

Being a tourist is a spreading disease. Sausalito has decided, or unwittingly watched it come to pass, that it is the main sanitorium for those afflicted.

Its businesses share the profits and its residents share the diversified shopping which normal small towns could not furnish. But the price is high, in terms of peace.

TIBURON PERHAPS still has time to choose.

First Stretch Of Elevated Transit Nears Completion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The first stretch of elevated line for the Bay Area's multi-million dollar rapid transit system is nearing completion near Walnut Creek.

"The project marks the first time modern techniques of aerial construction, including the use of pre - stressed, reinforced concrete, have been used for a rapid transit system in this country," said construction supervisor David G. Hammond today.

The half mile segment near Walnut Creek will be part of the system's test track operation, Hammond said, and is the standard that will be used for most aerial portions of the system in other areas.

In all, 30 miles of the 75-mile network will be elevated, on structures 20 to 30 feet high, with double - track roadbed 26 feet wide.

Roadbed girders spanning the 80-foot gaps between supporting upright columns are cast and pre-stressed on the right-of-way, then hoisted into position by crane.

Ross Due Bid On Flood Zone

Ross Town Council will hear a proposal from County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen that it join the proposed Ross Valley Flood Control Zone at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall.

The proposal which Kettenhofen has been making to other cities in the valley in recent weeks would give the councilmen veto power over any construction within their city limits if they did not like its design.

The council will also hear a report from a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. representative on how the town's street lighting system might be modernized.

Turlock is a name obtained by H. W. Lander from Harper's Weekly in 1871, which told of a lake in Ireland called Turlough, meaning "dry lake."

LJB's Much-Criticized Relations With Press Defended As Just Fine

WASHINGTON — Last week Life magazine published an article about President Lyndon B. Johnson's relations with the press, and it was for the most part quite critical.

The leading Washington pundits were asked their opinion of the president, but nobody bothered to talk to me. I believe that the reason for this was that I'm one of the few newspapermen in Washington who believes President Johnson's relations with the press are above reproach.

THERE HAS probably never been a president in our history who has been so little interested in what was being written about him. While the president has always made himself available to the press, he has never played favorites with any of the correspondents, and he feels the same warmth for a newspaperman who writes something good about him as he does towards a newspaperman who for some reason might be antagonistic.

There are many things that can be said about President Johnson, but nobody can accuse him of trying to influence the press in any way. If a reporter is confused about Viet Nam or the Great Society, all he has to do is call up the White House and the president will straighten him out. If he doesn't call, the president will call him. But once the story is in print, that's the end of it as far as Mr. Johnson is concerned. Besides, he's much too busy to call up an editor or a television network president and complain about what has been said about him.

As far as news leaks from the government are concerned, President Johnson has always taken the position that it does not make any difference who announces a story as long as it's made available to the public.

OCCASIONALLY A high government official may say something that the president felt he alone should say, and then the official will get a joking letter from Mr. Johnson kidding him about it. But in most cases, particularly where presidential appointments are involved, he couldn't care less who leaked them.

Many of the newspapermen in the Life piece complained that they never know what the president is going to do next and he's very difficult to cover. With the exception of an occasional walk on the White House lawn and a press conference every once in a while, the White House press corps has nothing to do. The president will always give them plenty of notice when he plans to go somewhere, and he never fails to keep his press secretary, George Reedy, informed of his plans.

THANKS TO FINE teamwork between the president and Mr. Reedy, the press is never at a loss as to what is going on.

The rumor in Washington is that the president is thin-skinned, which couldn't be further from the truth. The first person to laugh about a story on himself is the president. He enjoys the give and take of satire as much as anybody and if there is anything he detests it's someone who won't laugh along with him.

The president's witticisms are the talk of Washington, and it's tremendously hard for him at a press conference to keep from making a hilarious quip.

As for the columnists, the president has always believed that they have a difficult job and he doesn't want to make it harder by disagreeing with them.

I COULD GO ON forever citing other reasons why I believe the Life article was wrong, but I think I've said enough already. I don't ask anything in return for defending the president in his relations with the press, except if Mrs. Johnson would like to plant some rose bushes around our house my wife wouldn't be mad at all.

Today is Wednesday, May 12, the 132nd day of 1965 with 233 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing, was born on this day in 1820.

On this day in history:

In 1932, searchers found the body of the baby son of Col. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh. The baby had been kidnapped March 1.

In 1937, George VI was crowned king in Westminster Abbey. He succeeded brother Edward VIII, who abdicated to marry divorcee Wallis Simpson.

In 1949, the Soviet occupation authorities in Berlin announced the end of the blockade of that city, one which had lasted 328 days.

In 1963, President John F. Kennedy ordered troops to take up positions in the vicinity of Birmingham, Ala., after riots broke out.

A thought for the day—Mark Twain said: "Work consists of whatever a body is obliged to do, play consists of whatever a body is not obliged to do."

WINNING BRIDGE

Make Difficult Bridge Hand Against Any Defense In Game

Pay no attention to the East-West cards in today's hand. Your problem is to make four spades regardless of how those East-West cards are distributed.

How would you play the hand if you could see only the South hand and the dummy?

Opening lead — ◇ K

After winning the first trick with the ace of diamonds you might try the "normal" play of leading a low heart. East wins with the ace of hearts and returns a trump. You wind up losing a trump and three hearts.

You can make the contract if you know who has the king of clubs — but this may involve reaching dummy with the jack of spades.

This would not be possible if East had K-x of spades. Remember that you can't depend on any particular card to be in the East or in the West hand.

The correct play is to lead a club to dummy's ace at the second trick and then return dummy's low heart.

UNUSUAL PLAY

Peculiar, but it guarantees the contract. Thank Paul Lukacs, of Israel, for this unusual play.

The contract is safe if East has the queen of hearts. If he plays his queen, you can later develop a heart trick and can afford to lose a trump.

If East has the queen but fails to play it, you can develop a heart trick anyway.

LOSE TO QUEEN

At worst, your jack of hearts will lose to the queen. If West returns a trump, the only way of threatening a heart ruff in dummy, he will lose his trump trick (as the cards lie). You can then afford to lose three hearts.

At worst, West will win with the queen of hearts and will safely lead a trump with K-x-x of spades. You win and lead another heart.

If West leads another trump, he loses his trump trick; and if he doesn't, you can later ruff a heart in dummy.

DAILY QUESTIONS

Dealer, at your left, bids one heart, your partner overcalls with one spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ K 7
♥ Q 10 5 3
♦ K Q J 9
♣ 9 6 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two notrump.

If partner has good values for his overcall, he can bid game in spades or notrump. If he has shaded values, he can pass without misery.

New President Of Wives Club 'Home Again' In California

"Home Again" in California is Mrs. Edward S. E. Newbury, new president of the Officers' Wives Club at Hamilton Air Force Base. A native of California, she was graduated from College of Sequoias when it was known as Visalia Junior College. She was installed yesterday at the Officers' Club.

MRS. EDWARD NEWBURY

KAY NEWBURY, wife of Colonel Newbury, has been a member of the Officers' Wives Club at Hamilton since moving to Marin more than two years ago. They have two children, Lisa, six, and Kelly, seven years of age, who were adopted while the Newburys were stationed in Germany. The youngsters received their American citizenship in January of this year. Also a German addition to the family, which returned to the states with them, is a dachshund named Abner.

MRS. NEWBURY brings experience with her into her job as she was president of the Wives Club at Shaw Air Force Base in South Carolina. She served as food chairman for the first debutante tea last year and is room chairman for the Parent-Teacher Assn.

HOME AND family are on the top of the list of her most enjoyable things in life and she also is interested in sewing, ceramics and a student of the electronic organ.

Mrs. Carroll W. McColpin, honorary president of the Officers' Wives Club, was installing officer.

SERVING WITH Mrs. Newbury on the 1965-66 council are Mesdames Joseph Willson, first vice president; Vincent Ashmore, second vice president; Nick McCommon, secretary; Harry Noble, assistant secretary; Homer Terry, treasurer; Dwight Peterson, first assistant treasurer, and Quentin Pease, second assistant treasurer.

Medical Society Sets Up Health Career Open House

Youngsters from throughout Marin are invited to attend "Health Careers Day," a one day open house designed to interest young adults in careers in medicine, at the San Francisco Medical Society, 250 Masonic Ave., on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

REPRESENTATIVES from various fields will speak on the education requirements and answer questions about their particular specialties.

Booths will be set up with displays on a wide variety of careers that are directly or indirectly connected with the medical field.

AMONG the career possibilities that will be discussed are those involved in health fields—dentists, hospital administrators, psychologists, therapists, physicians, nurses, veterinarians, pharmacists, librarians, social workers, dietitians, medical assistants, medical illustrators, podiatrists, Armed Forces medics, medical librarians, X-ray laboratory technicians and laboratory clinicians.

OTHERS will be speech therapists, hearing clinicans, medical record people and inhalation therapists, among others.

Serving on the committee from Marin are Mrs. Edmund Mahon of Mill Valley; Mrs. Matthew N. Hosmer of San Rafael; Mrs. Albert Samelson of Tiburon and Mrs. Blaine Royden of Greenbrae.

EXPLORING CREATIVITY

Tomorrow's World To Require Man At Fullest Development

Last of three articles based on the "Exploring Creativity" series of lectures sponsored by the Mill Valley Branch, American Assn. of University Women, held at the College of Marin the past month.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Living in the new world of tomorrow will demand man's fuller potential and there will be a need to be creative. Preparing the youngster of today to meet the challenges of such a world of new occupations, precepts and techniques is the concern of Dr. Betty Psaltis, assistant professor in the School of Education at San Francisco State College.

"Today there is lip service to creativity in our school system, but actually we seem to be hell-bent against creativity," Dr. Psaltis charged.

In reality, she said, we encourage conformity because it is easier to deal with conformists in an age when an exploding population is pressuring the educational system.

"THE WHOLE SYSTEM militates against people who cannot conform, and the same picture holds true in industry, business and other lines of work."

"If a teacher doesn't value non-conforming ideas himself, he hardly can encourage them in students," Dr. Psaltis stated, "and without courage and independence of judgment, achievement is hardly likely to occur."

She cited a study of highly creative and outstanding adults which showed three out of five of them had had trouble in school.

"We must permit the individual the psychological freedom to think, and to feel the openness," she said, describing the climate needed to allow the fully functioning and creative personality to emerge.

"We used to think that being creative was to be a little mad and was a rare thing. But research has proved that everyone has the potential for creativity."

Some features of the climate needed to foster the creative personality she cited were an environment of safety and psychological freedom, absence of external evaluation, ability to see things from the other's point of view, and acceptance of an individual as of basic worth.

"DO WE VALUE TRAITS in creative persons we see in everyday life?" was another basic question Dr. Psaltis raised.

SHE DEFINED THESE traits as a general openness to experience, originality, adaptive flexibility, sensitivity to problems and their visualization, judgment and redefinition; insatiability for improvement on current problems, great energy, need for variety and autonomy, toleration of ambiguity, confusion and disorder and a strong disposition to be independent.

She also added non-conformity, not in an external sense but in the deeper world of ideas and thinking.

SHE SAID THAT creativity contains elements of novelty and an awareness of reality—it is not static but rather a process, a working out, and sometimes the outcome is not tangible, resulting instead in new perceptions and new insights.

Speaking as a teacher, Dr. Psaltis said that her students never recall learning facts in the classroom. What lasts with them, she said, is the experience when the children faced a problem, assessed it in their own way and found solutions.

"But this works only when the problem has significance and meaning to the students.

"And," she said, "today the middle classes tend to shield the children from significant problems that need solutions."

DR. PSALTIS CITED a real need for true communication between one individual and another, whether it be parent-child; teacher-student or etc.

"We must resist the superficial relationships of today's world and establish the kind of personal relationships where one individual seeks to help another become himself," she said, recalling the incident in "Fail-Safe" when after all other communication has broken down, the two leaders at last can have a genuine, open sensitive communication in final desperation.

"Why does man need to be pushed to the brink of doom to be forced to communicate on a meaningful level?" she asked in conclusion.

Store Loses Earrings To Teen Shoplifter

Shoplifting of a $15 pair of cultured-pearl earrings was reported to San Rafael police Monday night by an employee of Noma's Gift Shop in the Northgate Shopping Center.

Edward H. Stone, 15, of 630 Bamboo Terrace, San Rafael, said he saw a teen-ager reach into the showcase, grab the earrings, drop them into his boot-top, and depart in an old-model car, shortly before 5 p.m. The store recently has lost other items to shoplifters, police said.

The board will also consider teacher contracts for the next school year, a school calendar for next year with 180 days of school, the resignations of nine teachers and the hiring of 14 new teachers, a school nurse and a librarian.

Strep Cases Remain Problem For Marinites

Streptococcus infections, which have led the list of communicable diseases in Marin every week since the start of 1965, remained a problem last week, according to County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht.

Total number of cases, 58, was only slightly lower than last week's 61. The figure has ranged from 27 in early January to 94 in mid-February.

San Rafael was most heavily hit. It had 17 cases. Novato had 10 and Mill Valley had six, while Kentfield and Corte Madera each had two. Marin City, San Anselmo and Fairfax each had one case. The 18 others were in rural areas.

RESOLUTION NO. 4036 N.S. RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MILL VALLEY, GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED "HIGH SCHOOL-TIDELANDS ANNEXATION"

WHEREAS, the City of Mill Valley has heretofore filed with the Secretary of the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin a proposal for the annexation of the territory more particularly described in EXHIBIT A attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference, and

WHEREAS, said proposal included a map and specific legal description of the boundaries of the territory proposed for annexation, and

WHEREAS, the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin did thereafter prepare a report upon said proposed annexation with respect to the definiteness and certainty of the proposed boundaries, the nonconformance of proposed boundaries with lines of assessment or ownership, the creation of islands or corridors of unincorporated territory and other similar matters affecting the proposed boundaries, and

WHEREAS, in said report the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin did approve said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, the City of Mill Valley has heretofore filed with the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County a notice of intention to annex the territory more particularly described in EXHIBIT A, and

WHEREAS, said notice contained the specific boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed, and

WHEREAS, the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County, after public hearing, did approve said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, thereafter and on January 18, 1965, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley did adopt its Resolution No. 4026 N.S. giving notice of said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, said Resolution No. 4026 N.S. did fix a time and place when and where the City Council of the City of Mill Valley would meet to hear written protests against the proposed annexation made by any person owning real property within the territory, and

WHEREAS, the City Clerk of the City of Mill Valley did thereafter cause notice of said public hearing to be given in the manner required by law, and

WHEREAS, thereafter the Cilty Council of the City of Mill Valley did on March 1, 1965, hold said public hearing and did determine at said public hearing that written protests filed were inadequate to prevent the annexation then pending, and

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley did thereafter adopt its Ordinance No. 624 annexing said territory, and

WHEREAS, GEORGE LEO ZARO, individually, and as a limited partner of ALCAN MARIN, LTD., a partnership, did file In the Superior Court of the State of California In and For the County of Marin a Petition for Writ of Mandate in Civil Action No. 42363, contending that the action of the City Council of the City of Mill Valley in consummating said annexation was invalid for certain reasons, including the following:

(a) That the City Council of the City of Mill Valley was allegedly without jurisdiction to adopt its Resolution No. 4026 N.S. because certain proceedings for the incorporation of some of the same territory were alleged to be pending;

(b) That the City Council of the City of Mill Valley was without jurisdiction to hold its public hearing on said proposed annexation and to adopt its Ordinance No. 624 for the reason that the City of Mill Valley was allegedly required to give notice of said hearing to the State Lands Commission of the State of California, and

WHEREAS, said GEORGE LEO ZARO has contended that because of said claims he was deprived of a fair and proper hearing with respect to said annexation,

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, ORDERED AND DECLARED AS FOLLOWS:

1. This Resolution is adopted and the public hearing hereinafter mentioned is set solely for the purpose of affording to GEORGE LEO ZARO and any and all other owners of property within the area proposed to be annexed and any and all other persons interested therein an additional opportunity to be heard with respect to said proposed annexation and to eliminate any question as to whether such persons were afforded a fair and legal opportunity to be heard on said matter in the proceedings previously had with respect thereto.

2. The boundaries of the territory sought to be annexed by these proceedings are more particularly described in EXHIBIT A attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

3. Said annexation shall be designated the "High School-Tidelands Annexation".

4. The legislative body of the City of Mill Valley has initiated the proceedings for the annexation of said territory on its own motion without requiring a petition. Said proceedings will be conducted pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939.

5. The reasons why the City of Mill Valley desires said annexation are as follows:

(a) Said territory, because of its location and other features, should be governed in its development by the same zoning and planning regulations which govern territory within the City of Mill Valley.

(b) Because of its location, said territory will receive the benefit of and should therefore participate in supporting the municipal services of said City.

6. Notice is hereby given that on the 21st day of June, 1965, at 8:00 o'clock P.M. of said day, or as soon thereafter as said matter may be heard, in the Council Chambers in the City Hall, Mill Valley, California, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley will again meet to hear written protests against the proposed annexation made by any person owning real property within the territory.

7. The City Clerk is hereby directed to cause a copy of this Resolution to be published in the manner prescribed by Section 35311 of the Government Code of the State of California, and said Clerk is further directed to give such other notice of the proposed annexation as may be required by law.

8. The adoption of this Resolution shall in no way affect the validity of or constitute a rescission of Resolution No. 4026 N.S. or Ordinance No. 624 of the City of Mill Valley or any of the proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution or Ordinance.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a meeting of the City Council of the City of Mill Valley on the 3rd day of May, 1965, by the following vote:

Water District Faces Property Tax Decision

Directors of Marin Municipal Water District will meet tonight to decide whether the district should levy the first property tax in its history or should raise water rates to obtain funds for a 10-year improvement program.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the district office at 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera. The time was moved back from the usual 1:30 p.m. schedule because of expected public interest in the question, which has split the board of directors.

The district plans a program expected to cost about 6.1 million dollars over 10 years, to include new lines and tanks and expand treatment plants, replace worn out lines, and install local tanks near major new developments.

General Mgr. William R. Seeger has recommended against a bond issue, saying the district a few years hence will have to go to the voters with a much larger bond measure to support the county's share of a project to bring water from Sonoma County.

Seeger said a tax rate of about 13 cents per $100 assessed valuation, or a 10 per cent increase in rates, or some combination, would raise the necessary funds.

Board Chairman William A. Marcus has led the fight against the tax, arguing that persons not using water should not have to pay for it and that major public users, such as Hamilton Air Force Base and San Quentin Prison, would not be paying a fair share. The public users are exempt from the property taxes.

Director Robert G. Anderson has led the fight to have part of the costs paid for by taxes, at least on land, saying that value of land is increased because the water district is in existence, and that winners of capital gains should help pay for those benefits.

Seeger is also scheduled to discuss district staff needs under the 10-year program.

Publisher Warns 'Flood Gates Open' For Obscenity

Citizens of this country must fight a two-pronged battle against the forces of immorality, Charles L. Gould, publisher of the San Francisco Examiner and News-Call Bulletin said in San Rafael yesterday.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council, Gould warned of "appalling moral erosions" at home and "the evil forces which confront us on the global stage."

Placing a partial blame for immorality at home on the nation's courts, he said:

"Our courts have handed down decisions that make a mockery of justice. Rules . . . that prevailed for generations as sane and sensible guides for personal conduct were reduced or removed."

Gould said he had evidence "that clearly indicates that the flood gates of pornography are open and smut and vulgarity and obscenity are in full tide."

He criticized the courts for deciding these are matters to be decided not by courts but by the community conscience.

He urged the public to eliminate pornography by refusing to purchase it.

"You have the power," he said. "Use it."

Gould, praising this country's ability to retaliate against a nuclear attack, warned of the "Communist evil . . . We cannot afford to underestimate the cunning and cleverness of the high priests of this godless ideology and their dedicated disciples."

He warned that beyond military strength, the people of this country need moral strength, will power, to combat communism.

Stating that "we must each reaffirm our faith in our way of life," Gould said he was worried that "honorable, honest patriotism has become suspect. Patriotism has become a nasty word."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many So-Called Natural Deaths Are Believed To Be Murders

VAN DELLEN

Murder is easy to miss, especially when it is not suspected by the physician or authorities. By law, the doctor calls the coroner where the circumstances of death are suspicious or obscure. The medical examiner conducts an autopsy to determine the cause of death, but unless he knows what he is doing, the real reason may escape detection.

When an individual is found dead, the family physician usually discusses the past health record with the coroner and signs the death certificate when there is good reason to believe the individual passed away from natural causes.

THERE ALWAYS is a possibility that murder is missed when the individual has a chronic ailment likely to end in natural death at any time. It is reasonable for the physician to assume that Mr. X had a fatal heart attack if he had a history of attacks. A criminal in such a case would not wait for nature to take its course.

The possibility of poisoning is the last thing on the mind of the physician when a patient enters the hospital with a serious liver disease. The true cause may be uncovered as the workup progresses but it is not easy for the doctor to approach the family when it is suspected.

NOW AND THEN, death is due to natural causes but the family blame an accident to obtain double indemnity insurance. Freak accidents occasionally turn out to be murder. Dr. Edward Press of the Illinois Department of Public Health made a survey of drownings and found several highly suspicious instances. In most of these no one was known to have witnessed the drowning and the body was found hours or days later.

A 10-month-old was found in a bucket containing seven or eight inches of water and an 18 month old in bath tub with two inches of water. Many of the others were middle aged and some were in submerged automobiles. Some were excellent swimmers.

Dr. Press had reasons to doubt the possibilities of suicide, heart attacks, strokes, and epilepsy because of questionable circumstances.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

MEDICAL CAREER

Donald writes: I am 12 years old and would like some information on a career as a doctor. My physician said you would send me this information or tell me where I could find it.

REPLY

The American Medical Assn. has a leaflet on this subject. Send your request for Opportunities and Rewards of a Career in Medicine to 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. There is no charge.

DAILY COD LIVER OIL

R. E. S. writes: I would like to report that cod liver oil, taken a half hour before bedtime, followed by chewing gum to detract from the fishy taste, promotes a sound, smooth, restful sleep. It's wonderful. Is it all right to take a teaspoonful of this oil daily?

REPLY

Yes, but unnecessary as a dietary supplement, if you are eating properly.

LEMON AND YEAST

M. F. writes: I am bothered with constipation even though I eat an adequate diet. I take lemon in warm water when I get up in the morning and yeast tablets after meals. Could the yeast be constipating?

REPLY

As a rule, yeast is not constipating.

SLOWING UP

B. L. writes: Can you tell me what hormone deficiency means in a 67 year old?

REPLY

The glands are drying up, son.

Huksterz' Spelling Mite Give Webster A Nitemare

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Time was when kids learned to read from newspapers, signboards and names on boxes in the grocery. If they used that method these days we'd be turning out some of the misspelling champions of all time.

There apparently is a rule among product-namers that nothing should be spelled right if it possibly can be spelled wrong. To qualify for the job, however, they themselves must be perfect spellers —otherwise, by mistake, a word might come out correctly.

To be really in style, the item or company should be known as "rite" instead of "right," preferably preceded by the word "made" spelled as "maid." "Maid-Rite" industries and products are very much in at present, and "Bi-Rite Market" gets a double score too.

Score an extra point any time you can use a "K" instead of a "C," as in "Kut and Kurl" shop. It is fashionable also to use "EE" for "Y" in "Kandee Kitchen" or "Saftee lock," while "Handee Andee Kustom Karpet Kane" is pretty unbeatable.

Sometimes just a change in one letter and a bit of togetherness will turn the trick — "Bestoall Foods" for instance — or as a last resort even a hyphen, as in "Foa-Ming Cleanser."

But it's really more chic to switch things around a little more. "Plee-Zing" cake mix and "Delite Kream" frosting go well together, with "Minit Mix" instant coffee for a chaser.

It isn't only product and firm names that would make Noah Webster shudder. Frozen food packages are "Reddy-Maid," all set to "Heet and Eet."

Nowadays I take my klothes to my neighborhood "Qwik Kustom Kleaners" so they can remove the spot where I dropped one of those "Krisp Karmel Chooz." It's pretty E-Zy after all to grow accustomed to the new spelling vogue. That's rite, I've got it maid!

Demo Club Sets Marincello Topic

The proposed community in Marincello will be the topic at a program sponsored by the Sausalito Democratic Club at 8:15 p.m. Monday at Campbell Memorial Hall, San Carlos and Santa Rosa avenues, Sausalito.

Speakers will be former County Supervisor Vera Schultz, who is now a consultant to the Frouge Corp., and someone from the San Francisco architectural firm of Reid and Tarics.

Hospital Room Cost Increases

Daily cost of rooms at San Rafael General Hospital increased $2 yesterday for new patients.

The new rates, starting at $29 for a bed in a multi-patient ward, will affect all patients June 1, Arthur G. Burns, hospital administrator, announced.

"The hospital foundation board Monday night reluctantly approved the increase," he said. "If we were not going to adjust and raise the salaries of all hospital personnel this year, the increase in room rates would have been unnecessary."

Persons in a hospital room with only one other patient will be charged $31 under the new rate schedule. A single-patient room will cost $34 per day.

The Ross summer program, which runs from June 21 to July 23, offers activities including swimming, tennis and dessmaking. It is open to children from first to eighth grades.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Thin Man' Reruns, Bond Compared

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The television reruns of "The Thin Man" movies and the current fad of James Bond motion pictures give film viewers a good chance to compare these two investigating fellows of different generations.

After a close study of the matter, there is no doubt in my mind that "The Thin Man" will be more palatable for viewing and re-viewing in the long run than Bond. "The Thin Man" wears well, improving with age. Bond will be tiresome when the novelty of the flashy gimmicks wears off after one or two repeats of the same film.

How do these two heroes differ?

"The Thin Man" — as played by William Powell — is, for all his improbable involvements with crime, an isle of sanity, an instructive ideal of grace triumphant, a yielder of gaiety and warmth.

James Bond, tongue-in-cheek or not, does not seem eminently well at base, reflecting a definite tendency toward sadism, not to mention masochism as well.

"The Thin Man," in a remarkable state of affairs considering his profession as a detective, reflects some legitimate reality by having a wife, a young son and a dog. And not only do they not get him down, he actually likes and enjoys them, and has learned to adjust to them and bring them hospitably into his own way of life.

James Bond, for all his pretensions to slick magazine savoir faire, gives the impression of a bull - headed clod who has learned his sophistication by the numbers, just enough to impress girls in discloteques.

Bond's creator, the late Ian Fleming, himself said something to the effect that his super-agent hero was a product of the wildest sort of dreams that men have. Yet the notion that Bond could bring personal and joyous excitement to an otherwise rather mundane setting, as "The Thin Man" did, is an impossible one. "The Thin Man" was also a product of wild dreams—yet what a difference in taste.

When "The Thin Man" movies were made, most of the movie audience was composed of adults. In this era of James Bond, most of the movie audience is composed of youngsters.

If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at The Emporium, Foundations, all six stores, phone YU 2-1111.

NORTHGATE SHOPPING CENTER

Jody Fritzler Gets Spree At Shopping In Northgate

Jody Fritzler, 18-year-old "Miss Northgate," was indulged recently in a teen-aged girl's dream—a day-long shopping spree at Northgate Shopping Center, with Northgate merchants picking up the tab.

The Marin County student is Northgate's entry in the "Miss Marin Pageant," and the purpose of her spree was the selection of her wardrobe for the judging ceremonies.

The five-foot-two, 105-pound freshman devoted hours to comparison shopping, visiting all of the fine fashion stores in the new center. "Everything was perfect," Jody continued, "The people at Northgate were just as helpful and encouraging as could be."

For the "Miss Marin" contest, Jody selected a pink-and-white shantung ball gown, with white wrist-length gloves and shantung shoes as accessories.

Next decision for "Miss Northgate" was the choice of a bathing suit. After trying on countless versions in six different stores, Jody, a size 7-petite, chose a one-piece pink suit which complemented her auburn hair and sunny complexion.

"Miss Northgate" will be given a personalized hair styling by the experts at H. Liebes, and make-up is being especially created for her by Miss Margaret of Modern Eve.

"It's something you dream about but never believe could happen to you," Jody commented, "all this attention is overwhelming!" The psychology major was selected from nearly 30 girls to represent the shopping center, and, if she wins, will go on to the "Miss California" and possibly "Miss Universe" competitions.

Jody lives with her parents, brother and sister at Hamilton Air Force Base, attends classes at College of Marin, and works part-time at one of the Northgate stores. Jody's future plans include a career as an airline stewardess before marriage.

WHEE—IT'S FUN! Northgate's entry, 18-year-old Jody Fritzler, in the Miss Marin Pageant, made the most of her all-day shopping spree acquiring a wardrobe. Ball gown, accessories, bothing suit, hair styling and makeup were part of the adventure.

City Of Paris Promoting May In Marin

One of the highlights of City of Paris participation in the "May In Marin" promotion is the special presentation of aluminum sun loungers to be in the store only for this promotion.

City of Paris Marin-Northgate carries only ready-to-wear, accessories, children's clothing and cosmetics but will have a stock of these specially priced sun loungers for a limited time.

The loungers are made of strong, lightweight aluminum (they weigh only six pounds) and they adjust from both ends to five positions. They fold into a very compact size, for easy storage when not in use.

Covered with heavy cotton duck, they're ideal for patio and yard lounging, perfect for carrying in the car to the beach or on vacation.

Better Quality, Bright Colors Are In Store

NEW YORK — Retailers are emphasizing better quality and higher price curtains and draperies this spring. Department and specialty stores, particularly, have set their sights on the bigger tickets items in almost all classifications for spring merchandising plans.

On the fashion front, the move toward the "brights" in colorings has become a national pattern, many piece goods buyers report, and the consumer now is accepting these bold colorings as an established design technique.

Buyers for some of the top department and specialty stores, however, will be introducing some of the new traditionals in their assortments of piece goods. Colorings, they report, will be slightly subdued but the "brights" will continue as an important influence, particularly as accents in a print combination.

A continuation of the panel print influence in custom draperies will be seen.

Lined draperies, heavy textured glass fiber fabrics and novelty weaves, particularly in the homespun casement effects, are topping retail selections in the ready-made drapery field.

The silk look also is becoming a strong influence in the ready-made drapery classification. The two-tone or multi-tone effects that have been created are giving retailers a new look in the traditional antique satin weaves.

The following is a check of curtain and drapery trends in various cities:

1. —Cleveland retailers report the current preference is: 60 per cent traditional, one-third of sales in contemporary and Early American. Best colors and prints are: Avocado, red, tangerine, brilliant blue and bold patterns. They comment: "Age of elegance" reflected in trend to traditional . . . contemporary designs to get strong spring promotion.

2. San Diego merchants say the current preference is: 65 per cent modern and contemporary. Best colors: Beige, tan, brown, off-white . . . bold colors surging forward. Their comment: Will continue promotion of modern and contemporary for spring, with more emhpasis on color.

3. Scranton, Pa., retailers say the current preference is: 50 per cent Early American, followed by French and Italian Provincial and traditional. Bold bright colors and designs show strong and steady growth.

4. Fort Worth, Texas, stores find the current preference: 75 per cent traditional, 15 per cent Early American and 10 per cent contemporary. Best colors and prints are: Bright shades of orange, brown and blue . . . rose and red making some comeback. Floral and scenics strong. Retailers say: Traditional promotions are planned for spring featuring related merchandise.

A Different Breed Of Rat

DONCASTER, England (AP)—Mice in the mines of Yorkeshire have smaller tails but longer bodies than their cousins above the ground.

So says Michael Clegg, a Doncaster Museum nautralist after a study of mice in various habitats of the largest county in England.

Why mine mice have larger bodies and smaller tails is something Clegg can't answer. Maybe, he said, they had larger ancestors. And maybe conditions for mice are better down below than they are up above.

AN AVID SNOW SKIER, Jody Fritzler (Miss Northgate) donned a "wet suit" for a look at the water skis at Northgate Sporting Center. The bathing suit was part of her wardrobe for the Miss Marin Pageant.

Specialist In Make-Up Due 4 Days

Diane Stewart, special Charles of the Ritz consultant, will be in City of Paris Marin-Northgate from May 10 through May 14 for personal consultations.

Miss Stewart will advise on all phases of make-up, personalized to fit individual skin texture and coloring.

She will also custom-blend a special size gift box of face powder with each Charles of the Ritz cosmetic purchase.

Stantung Neckwear For Men

Shantung neckwear for men will be more important in the overriding textured theme this spring.

Fashion retailers in trend-setting areas have found shantung a factor in their springtime volume for several seasons. However, this has not been the case throughout the country.

Neckwear producers say this will be the first really important season for shantung.

Tweeds and a host of other novelty textures are also expected to build spring volume.

WHICH GOWN WILL GO BEST? Jody Fritzler had a fabulous time at Northgate making selections. The College of Marin psychology major was selected from nearly 30 candidates to be the shopping center's entry in the Miss Marin Pageant.

Creating Mood Is Excitement

By LLOYD LIEBES JR.

One of the most fascinating things about this business is meeting people, enjoying their company—and creating.

There is enormous fascination in creating excitement through public relations. And the fun, basically, is in the anticipation of the mood we create. Happily with us, the mood we aim to create is pleasurable.

One such pleasant experience occurred the other day when I went to Northgate to help in the selectiton of the wardrobe of "Miss Northgate."

One never knows what to expect . . . but always there is this anticipation. And then, most delightfully, I was introduced to Jody Fritzler.

Since moving from the merchandising to the sales promotion end of our business I haven't had the pleasure of creating designs for our customers. But here the intriguing opportunity presented itself once again.

Jody's personality was fascinating—sweet yet with a challenging sparkle. Physically, with her long amber hair combed softly over her shoulders, and a magnificent figure, our pert five-foot-two "Miss Northgate" was so easy to work with. If only all designs, all models were so adaptable.

Jody's dress of pink shantung smoothly accentuates the bodice, detailed at the waist with a green-stemmed pink rose. The skirt of schiffli-embroidered cotton bubbles out crisply from the waist. Jody was so easy to fit that the dress was completed in no time.

Here's luck to Jody Fritzler. And thank you, Jody, for giving me the opportunity to design again.

Peak Honors School

GAMBIER, Ohio (UPI) — Kenyon College officials report a mountain peak in Antarctica has been named for the college. The Board of Geographic Names advised the liberal arts college that a mountain peak more than 10,000 feet high was named Mount Kenyon. Prof. F. Alton Wade, a 1926 Kenyon graduate now teaching in Texas, named the mountain.

Mrs. Karel Stribley, co-owner of Stribley's, is the answer for brides-to-be in Marin County—trained by the National Bridal Service, endorsed by leading China, silver and crystal firms.

An authority on bridal etiquette and table appointments, Mrs. Stribley offers assistance in selecting china, crystal and silver on through to thank-you notes.

Best known trade names in the Chinas are Lenox, Spode, Wedgwood, Flintridge and Royal Doulton; in crystal, the world famous Fostoria and Val St. Lambert. Mrs. Stribley reports that these departments are now being expanded to include all the leading English firms.

BROTHERS 2 OPENS

Food service came to Unit No. 2 of the Northgate Shopping Center last week with the opening of the Brothers 2 Restaurant. Jack B. The Kutsuris brothers also own several restaurants in the East Bay.

Retailer Investment Better In A Good Shopping Center

NEW YORK — A retailer is "better off paying a reasonable rent in a good shopping center than getting a bargain in a weak development," said Barry Golden, vice president, Interstate Department Stores at the annual promotion conference sponsored by the International Council of Shopping Centers and the National Retail Merchants Association.

"No matter how strong you are," said Golden, "you can benefit from the presence in a shopping center of competitive and supplementary stores. This includes even a discount department store and a direct competitor."

The following are highlights from other speeches made at the shopping center meeting:

1. "The shopping center is now adult as an industry, and competition grows keener—even between shopping centers in any given market. We can no longer miss any sales opportunities," said Andrew L. Murphy, vice president, Allied Stores Corp.

2. The individual retailers in a shopping center should act as a single department store with respect to many of their operations, said Joseph S. Friedlander, partner, Stern Associates, a retail management company. "Is there any reason," Friedlander asked, "why the stores of a center should not take guidance from a common merchandising staff, operating with equipment and methodology unavailable to individual entrepreneurs?

"And how about the complex of talents, experience, and acquired skills required to do a competent professional work in display, advertising and personal selling? Why not use cohesive strength to improve methods, systems, personnel recruitment, and financial record keeping," asked Friedlander.

3. "It is important to accept the concept that today's shopping center, unlike the downtown area, is in effect a horizontal department store. The success of each store is to a degree related to every other store," noted Leonard L. Farber, shopping center developer. "When we build the image of the center, we are automatically building the image of each store," he continued.

A stunning ensemble, pretty enough for our beauty queen to wear on a whirlwind round of activities. The dress is a long-torso sheath, slightly flared skirt, in beige linen with black-rayon. The price, just 46.00. To complement this costume, we've chosen a new up-front tie style shoe by Falenti, in black licorice patent with black patent toe, 24.95 (this style also comes in white licorice patent with black patent toe). Last but not least, a lovely squared-envelope handbag in black patent, opening wide to reveal a roomy twin-pocketed interior, 26.95

Gigantic 'Dentures' Ready To Put The Bite On Space

GREEN BANK, W. Va. (AP) — A set of 28 gigantic "dentures" soon will be putting the bite on outer space to help astronomers search out secrets beyond the Milky Way.

The dentures are 3,500-pound gear segments forged by Alco Products Inc. so that when matched and joined they form a gear 264 feet in circumference.

The gear literally is a big wheel in space-exploration plans here at the National Radio Astronomy Observatory where it will provide lateral rotation of a huge radio telescope, described by engineers as "the most accurate and one of the largest in the world."

Its accuracy is planned to be such that its findings will serve as a standard for other radio telescopes in the northern hemisphere.

A radio telescope enables astronomers to study the heavens by listening to the sounds and energy emissions of the stars and planets.

The Green Bank telescope, constructed to an accuracy that would pinpoint an object within one square foot at 3,000 miles, is expected to pick up radio waves from as far away as five billion light years.

Take O Breath Of Scotland Air And You Are Breathing Whisky

LONDON (AP)—Take a good deep breath in the Highlands of Scotland and you'll notice a difference in the air.

It's whisky.

Evaporation during the maturing process accounts for some 10 million gallons a year of the stuff. That's an awful lot of scent on the wind.

At this moment there are about 425 million gallons of Scotch maturing throughout Scotland.

Lines of huge oak wood casks, thousands upon thousands of them, lie in silent, dark warehouses across the land.

Their value is estimated at a staggering $3,360 million. And it's all going to be drunk within the next few years.

An average Scotch takes up to six or seven years to mature. Some of the classic malt whiskies, however, are kept up to 30 years. So they become collector's pieces, like an old brandy or a famous champagne.

But most Scotch has a quick turnover.

People the world over like an ample supply and a sobering fact for Britons these days is that four-fifths of all Scotch produced is drunk by people outside Britain.

Half of all Scotch exports go to the United States. But the beverage is now sweeping through Europe.

Exports to the six Common Market countries (West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg) have trebled in about four years.

Scotch producers are particularly pleased at their success in the French market.

Advertising of Scotch is banned by law in France. Despite this, sales there have shot up from $9.5 million in 1959 to $30.2 million in 1963.

Exports to Scandinavian countries, with Sweden in the lead, continue to rise.

What is Scotch?

Its origins are buried in antiquity. But there's no doubt that for centuries a spirit distilled from a fermented barley mash has been made in the Scottish highlands.

The oldest reference to whisky occurs in a Scottish document dated 1494, where an entry says: "Eight bolls of malt to Friar John Cor wherewith to make aquavitae."

The term "whisky" is derived from the Gaelic "usquebagh" or "uisge beatha," meaning "water of life."

Scotch malt whisky is made from malted barley only. Scotch grain whisky is normally made from malted barley, together with ordinary barley and maize.

Malted barley is taken and mashed with hot water to extract the sugar. This sugary liquid is then fermented with yeast in a vat and distilled twice. The whisky is then put in casts and allowed to mature.

The Scotch most people drink is a blend of malt and grain whiskies.

But the straight malt whiskies, a heavier drink with a more pronounced flavor than the blendeds, are gaining ground.

The malts have names that ring like poetry:

Glenlivet, Laphroaig, Glenfiddich, Strathisla, Glenmorangie, Aultmore, Talisker . . .

The list seems endless. In fact there are 2,000 different Scotch whiskies, and more are being added all the time.

Four new distilleries are planned for Speyside, the Highland area where most of the Scotch is produced.

It has been written of whisky:

"It sloweth age; it strengtheneth youth; it helpeth digestion; it cutteth phlegm; it abandoneth melancholy; it relishes the heart; it lighteneth the mind and it quickeneth the spirit; it keepeth and preserveth the teeth from chattering and the throat from rattling."

And it getteth you drunk.

Tullahoma Calls Tullahoma But Through Shelbyville

TULLAHOMA, Tenn. (AP)—Directors of the Tullahoma Chamber of Commerce have protested to Southern Bell Telephone Co. because the city's person-to-person long distance calls go through nearby Shelbyville.

The directors are unhappy because of what happens when a Tullahoma caller can't get his party in the distant city and must leave word.

The operator says, "Call operator so-and-so in Shelbyville and ask for Tullahoma . . ."

Industrialist Charles Folk says that makes Tullahoma "look like a very small town way out in the sticks" to someone a long way off.

"We should combat the effect which is developing to make Tullahoma a suburb of Shelbyville," Folk said.

It all started when Southern Bell moved the operators and switchboards to Shelbyville where their functions were centralized with the advent of Direct Distance Dialing in the lower Middle Tennessee area last February.

Salaries Good For U.C. Grads

BERKELEY (UPI) — Three-fourths of the graduates of the University of California here earn more than $10,000 annually, a survey has shown.

The campus chancellor's office took a survey among 66,000 alumni. It found that most of them held their alma mater in high esteem, 71 per cent said they would send their children here.

Green, Mauve Pink For Children' Wear

NEW YORK — This spring, green and mauve pink will be the two new, exciting colors in children's wear, and shaped dresses will be more in demand than ever before, says Robert Love, designer, Joseph Love, Inc.

"Children belong in simple shapes, bright colors. My design philosophy for little girls is simplicity with just a touch of excitement. The dress should not be completely understated (as in mother's 'little nothing' dress), but should brighten the child's face, complement her personality," he says.

Love points out that "mother generally prefers the tailored look such as jumpers and blouses, but when grandmother buys the dress she chooses a bouffant."

His own favorites are the elegant, shaped little dresses and he admits to being influenced by the French—both French women's wear and children's wear. "But in France the children's good clothes are semi-custom made and terribly expensive. American mothers get more for their money," he says.

When asked if he designs differently for different parts of the country, Love said: "Much to my surprise, I have found immedidate acceptance of good fashion ideas. Even in the smallest towns women today are aware of fashion."

Love feels that good grooming is vital in developing a child's personality, and tastes should be at a price the average person can afford. "I like fabrics that are sturdy and washable and good looking after repeated washings."

Spring shoe fashions head in all directions—closed, opened, round-toes, ovals, low-heels, medium—but the unifying word which ties them all togehter is "soft." Shoes this spring are soft and more flexible.

Pumps are still in the lead, but slings with closed toes are moving up strongly. The T-strap shoe is more important than ever. They appear in dress, tailored, casual and sandalized treatments. They are delicate or sturdy, in all heel heights and shapes.

Retailers are featuring sandals with skinny stripping or broad straps. They too will be promoted in every heel, shape and material.

Buckles: the big trim on pumps and slings, again appear in dressy and casual versions. They are moving in self-materials, metals, jewels and very strong in designs with cut-out, see-through detailing.

Bows: part of the pretty, feminine look, are being shown in tiny little string versions and big, floppy fabric ways.

Kids continue as a major fashion in pumps and sandals. In reptiles, the cobras are strong, particularly black-white types. Suedes define the lady-like, feminine look.

In fabrics, meshes are coming back after an absence of seasons. They fit in with the new openness in shoes, and look very feminine. Natural linens again will be promoted combined with brown leathers, colored linens with leather trims and novelty prints for special promotions.

All The People In Belgium Due To Have Numbers Like Army

BRUSSELS (AP) — In about a year, every Belgian probably will have to have a matriculation number, just like in the army.

Administration experts claim the progress will be enormous.

In a vision worthy of futuristic writers, they imagine a central computer where each member of this country's more than 9 million population will be registered under a number of nine digits.

All other computers in the administration — finance, justice, defense, public health, social security, etc. — would be tuned to the main computer, allowing communication between all of them and bypassing of the big one.

Their dream sweeps away the hundreds of old-time bureaucrats who spend thousands of hours filing millions of index-cards by hand.

There are 200 public records in the state administration, most of them set in a different way, ignoring the others.

Do you know, they say, that one million Belgians change homes every year? Since the average citizen is listed in about 20 official records, that makes 20 million old addresses to erase and the same number of new ones to write. Or rather, that should make, since the work is so big that it is never completed.

Now with the computer, all that will be done automatically, by push-button, tape or teleprocessing (telephone), in a trice.

The man who got the idea, a Belgian public officer, admits he borrowed it from the Swedes, at an international public administration congress. They are already working on it, but have a smaller population, he said.

He sold the idea to Interior Minister Arthur Gilson, in charge of administrative reform. He bought it right away. Top administrators in all ministries adopted it immediately and enthusiastic response was received from big private companies. The project is expected to be adopted soon by the council of ministers.

The matriculation system would be simple. The first six figures would give your day, month and year of birth, something everybody remembers. The last three figures would be your exclusive registration number. Males would get numbers from one to 499, females from 500 to 999.

The new matriculation would appear on all official documents, and experts believe it would soon be on most private ones too.

The central computer would only include the information already inscribed on each citizen's identity card: name, surname, address, birth date, marital situation, profession.

The other computers linked to this one might be more sophisticated but the basic information would remain, with the possibility to update it in all machines at great speed. The important thing is not so much the central computer, experts said, but coordination of all of them.

TAKING A CHOICE

It isn't easy for a girl to make up her mind when faced with such a wide array of fine footwear. Jody Fritzler, 18-year-old Miss Northgate indulged herself deciding what shoes would go best with her beautiful ball gown, a gift of the Northgate Merchants Assn.

Salting Highways May Hurt Water

BOSTON (UPI) — Government geologists are investigating the possibility that huge quantities of salt used on icy highways in Massachusetts during the winter may seriously affect ground water near major roads.

About 100,000 tons of salt were dumped on the state's highways during the winter. Tests show that ground water samples had a chloride content not far from 250 ppm — the limit of chloride content recommended by the Public Health Service for public water supplies.

Cechettini Staff All Marinites

Ralph Cechettini, owner of Loana's in the Northgate Shopping Center, reports that his staff is now a group of "dyed in the wool" Marinites.

Cechettini himself was a Marin resident before opening his first store in Hayward. He has now returned to Marin to reestablish his home here.

Store manager Mrs. Virginia Leidy is a graduate of Dominican Convent, San Rafael, although in recent years she has been living out of the county. She has now taken up residence in Novato.

Hel Bino is almost a member of the Cechettini family. For the past six years she has been at the downtown San Rafael and Corte Madera stores of Ed Cechettini—Ralph's father. The latter stores have a different spelling—"Luana's."

Donna Egan, born in San Rafael and married to Timothy Egan, brings to Loana's in Northgate six years experience in office work.

Wendy Marelli Blanton, also a native of San Rafael, is the youngest member of Loana's staff and is familiar with style preferences of the younger set. Her many friends depend on her judgment on their selections from Loana's junior and junior petite fashions.

Medium, Dark Tones Due In Men's Clothes

Color and fabric are the headliners in men's clothing for Spring - Summer 1965, subordinating model to an important but secondary role.

Wider adaptations of the shaped silhouette—traced waist — coupled with subtle refinements in lapels and pocket detail, gives a fresh new look to men's clothing.

The big fashion news in color is a retreat from the lighter tones. Medium and dark tones take the spotlight. However, certain lighter shades such as gray and blue, and some mixtures in the blue, brown, olive and good families still remain important.

While the "no pattern" look still dominates in suits, textured effects have moved quickly to the front to provide a new surface look to fabrics. Chief among these is the look of silk, which appears not only in pure silk, but in blends of silk with worsted and rayon, as well as in fabrics which do not contain silk.

He's Making Rounds Of Pubs In Glasgow

GLASGOW (AP) — George Williamson, 25-year-old Glasgow architect, is well on the way to achieve his ambition to have a drink in every one of the city's 1,100 bars.

He took on the chore through the chance remark of a friend, who asked if he thought it possible to get around to all of Glasgow's pubs.

"I decided to take him up on this and have now visited 750 of them," said Williamson. "It is not the drink that is the attraction, it is to answer this challenge."

As he goes around the pubs, in good districts and in bad, he has devised his own system of classifying them. "Very often I have discovered that pubs in poor districts have more attractions than some in posh (swank) districts," he said. Williamson rates pubs on service, interior decoration, quality of the drink and the type of company which frequents the bar.

The chore means a variety of drinks for Williamson, for some pubs sell only whisky (no beer), others specialize in cheap wines.

Air Freight Up For U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The eleven U. S. trunk and three all-cargo airlines flew 86.3 million ton miles of air cargo (freight, mail and express) in domestic operations in February, a 17.3 per cent increase over the 73.6 million ton miles they carried in February of 1964, the Air Transport Association of America reported today.

Air freight ton miles in February totaled 65.5 million, an increase of 20.1 per cent. Express ton miles in February totaled 5.8 million, an increase of 14.7 per cent. Mail volume increased 7.4 per cent to a total of 15.0 million ton miles.

Stray Problems For Police Force

WEST NEWBURY, Mass. — During 1964, stray horses and cows gave police more trouble than missing automobiles.

Police Chief Eugene Willis' annual report shows six cows and three horses were reported loose, while only three cars were stolen.

Mountain Rescue Doctor A Hero

SEATTLE (AP) — It was a simple enough procedure: splinting a broken leg. Straighten the limb to its normal position. Elevate it. Use plenty of cushioning. Immobilize both of the adjacent joints.

A simple procedure—but Dr. Otto T. Trott was performing it in the middle of a wind and snow storm at the 3,400-foot level of Mount Si in the Cascade Mountains. The patient, Mrs. Norma Newell, lay in a bed scooped out of snow beside the wing of a crashed airplane.

Dr. Trott, a wiry German-born general practitioner who says he has "probably hung more on helicopter cables than any other physician in America," is medical director of the Mountain Rescue Council.

The council, a privately financed volunteer organization, began in a 1948 meeting of Dr. Trott; Ome Daiber, a home builder, and Wolf Bauer, a consulting engineer.

All were mountain climbers and had taken part in rescues on an unorganized basis ("Just because of the need," says Daiber. "Somebody had to do it.")

Bauer had called the meeting after returning from a business trip in Europe, where he witnessed operations of the Berg Wacht, the Bavarian rescue organization in the Alps.

"We had nothing like that here," Dr. Trott recalls. "We decided something had to be done."

Today, the Mountain Rescue Council has about 150 members in the Seattle area—among them Jim Whittaker, first American to scale Mount Everest. It has become the nucleus of the Mountain Rescue Assn., with affiliates in Alaska, California, the Rocky Mountain states and New England.

Although it receives no public funds, the council is called upon by federal, state and county agencies and responds immediately when there is an accident in the mountains.

Like a climber tumbling into a crevasse in Washington's Olympics. Or a group of youngsters lost on an overnight hike. Or what happened to Mrs. Newell and pilot Lawrence E. Clarke.

Mrs. Newell, 40, a secretary for a Seattle flying service, was taking flying lessons from Clarke, 26, a pilot for the service, when their small plane iced up and smacked into the north face of Mount Si a little before 3 p.m.

Mrs. Newell flipped the plane's radio onto an emergency frequency and put out a call for help. Then she lost consciousness. A radio operator at Paine Air Force Base at Everett, Wash., happened to have a very high frequency receiver and heard the call.

At 5:15 p.m., Sheriff's Capt. Harold Gauntlet, in charge of rescues, called Daiber. A second unlisted, phone in the house is paid for by the Mountain Rescue Council and is for outgoing calls. Mrs. Daiber got on it.

She called the council's telephone committee, wives of members whose job it is to spread the word. She also called the residence of Dr. Trott.

The doctor was on a hospital call. His wife, Ruth, relayed the message. A short time after he got home; about 8:30 Dr. Trott was on his way to North Bend.

About 90 men assembled for the Mount Si mission at 7:30 p.m. at a shopping center and split into car pools. They assembled again about an hour later at the State Patrol office in North Bend.

Dr. Trott got to North Bend about 12:30 a.m.

Splitting into their usual six-man teams, Mountain Rescue workers headed toward the crash area in four-wheeled vehicles provided by a group called the 4x4 club.

By midnight, a near-blizzard was raging on the mountain. At 2 a.m., search for the downed plane was suspended until dawn.

Shortly before 10 a.m., a helicopter spotted the wreckage. Two paramedics were dropped by cable and Clarke was hoisted aboard.

Then Otto Trott climbed aboard, was flown to the scene and made what he estimates is his 25th or 30th cable descent from a helicopter.

"At first I couldn't see the plane because it was covered with snow. The right wing had hit a stump and their heads had bumped the instrument panel. The woman had a broken back and leg."

With the medics assisting him, Dr. Trott lifted Mrs. Newell out of the plane and laid her between the crumpled wing and a shelf of snow. They placed Arctic gloves and a down-filled parka on her. The doctor made a cushion of foam rubber and covered the patient with a tarpaulin. Then he got out a collapsible plastic splint and blew it up by breathing into it like a balloon.

Mrs. Newell was flown to North Bend, where an ambulance met the helicopter and took her to the hospital.

By 3:30 p.m., the doctor was back in Seattle.

Mysterious Superstars Light The Rim Of Observable Universe

By Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Mysterious quasars, brilliant beacons at the edge of observable universe, are probably gigantic superstars giving birth to new stars.

Each quasar shines with light 20 to 100 times more intense than that of an entire galaxy. This fact recently led some scientists to believe that quasars are not single objects but "bundles" of stars, or chains of exploding stars.

But closer observation now leads astronomers to believe that quasars are massive superstars. Some pulsate and expand to a gigantic 10 billion miles across—the size of our solar system.

At the core are stars about one billion miles across. A star this size placed in the center of our solar system would engulf the earth and extend to the orbit of Jupiter.

Astronomers who reported new quasar theories at the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences said they were skeptical of recent Soviet reports that radio wave pulses have been detected from at least one quasar.

Astronomers can explain light pulsations, but rhythmic variations in radio emissions not only haven't been observed by U.S. scientists but also wouldn't fit quasar theories.

Some Russian astronomers said the radio pulses could be generated by a "supercivilization" in space.

Quasars are of intense interest to astronomers for another reason, however. They are so far away—the farthest seen so far is believed to be six billion light years distant—that they could shed new light on the history of the universe.

Light from the quasars now visible on earth has been traveling for billions of years. This means that the superstars were in existence before the earth was formed. In a sense, quasars are to astronomers what dinosaur skeletons are to archaeologists.

Dr. Jesse L. Greenstein, Mount Wilson and Palomar observatories astrophysicist, said quasars may be primary condensations of intergalactic gas—sort of boiling pots where new stars are being born.

Scientists are still at a loss to explain how objects as relatively "small" as quasars can generate such enormous energy. Some have attributed it to the annihilation of matter by anti-matter in explosions and by gravitational collapse.

However, Dr. William A. Fowler, who with British astrophysicist Fred Hoyle originally postulated that quasars are superstars, believes nuclear processes are the most likely "energizers." The enormous stars probably live only 100,000 to one million years. This is a relatively short lifetime for a star.

As Fowler now sees it, a quasar consists of three distinct parts. It has a core about 100 million times more massive than our sun. The core pulsates, contracting to about one billion miles in diameter and expanding to 10 or more times that distance across.

The contraction probably is rapid while the expansion may last 10 years. As the core expands, the newly created energy radiates outward. This is the process which Fowler believes causes the fluctuations of light observed in quasars.

Health Plans For Aged Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — The state 65 health insurance plans, in which insurance companies pool the risks of underwriting health insurance for those 65, or over on a statewide basis, made progress during 1964, according to Morton D. Miller, chairman of the State 65 Plans Liaison Committee, and president of New York 65, largest of the state 65 plans.

"Today there are approximately 320,000 elderly people covered by the state 65 plans in eight states," he said. "At the end of 1963, there were such plans in operation in five states. The four oldest state 65 plans in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York and Texas now have more enrollees than they had at the end of 1963."

Catholic Country

NEW YORK (UPI)—The most Catholic country in the world is one with a Communist government. It is Poland, which has 27 million practicing Catholics, or 90 per cent of the population, says the Catholic Digest.
